DRIVERLESS AUTO RUNS AMUCK; BOY SLAIN, GIRL HURT

Youths at Play Start Car; Five Seized.

Two 6-year-old children were the victims yesterday afternoon of one of the strangest automobile accidents on record. Bennie Kleinman of 1135 West 18th street is dead. Lillian Berman of 1100 West 18th street is in the county hospital with a fractured thigh and deep lacerations about the head. If she lives she may be a cripple.

Nathan Rothbaum of 3836 Douglas boulevard, the owner of the motor car, was arrested, but later was released under $5,000 bonds. Rothbaum is a collector for Grossfeld & Roe, wholesale grocers. Capt. Patrick Keilher placed a technical charge of assault to kill against him. In addition four boys were taken to the juvenile detention home.

Boys Cause "Auto Runaway."
The automobile that figured in the accident virtually "ran amuck." Rothbaum had stopped the car at the grocery of Jacob Tunkel at the northeast corner of Racine avenue and 18th street to make some collections. While he was in the store—not longer than two minutes—a group of boys began playing about the automobile. Some started to push it. Another tinkered with the mechanism. Suddenly there was a roar and the driverless car sped up the street.

East in 13th street it went, scattering the children before it and gaining speed with every foot. In the middle of the block it struck a taxicab and veered to the other side of the street. Some one shouted. Rothbaum came running out of the store and started in pursuit.

Children Caught Unaware.
Down near the southwest corner of 13th street and Blue Island avenue stood little Bennie and Lillian. They were holding hands, watching the rain fall and the gutter water rise. So intent were they on the rising rivulets that they did not hear the shouting or warning as the big car plunged on to the sidewalk toward them.

Four Boys Are Seized.
The boys taken to the detention home were Jacob Mittenmacher, 1136 West Thirteenth street; Paul Siskin, 1128 West Thirteenth street, and Hyman "Whitey" Rosenkowitz, 1128 West 13th street, each 9 years old, and Harry Barnett, 1124 West 18th street, 10 years old. They were the ones who played about the auto.

Two Other Children Hurt.
Ernest Coy, 8 years old, of 1841 North Western avenue, while playing ball in front of his home, was struck and injured by a motorcycle driven by a 13-year-old boy, who gave his name as Herman Huen, 2444 West Grand avenue.

RUMSEY'S WIDOW DIES; DOUBLE BURIAL TODAY

Her Death Follows His by Four Days.

A romance that had endured for more than half a century came to an end yesterday afternoon in the death of Mrs. Israel P. Rumsey at her Lake Forest home, "The Evergreens."

Her husband, civil war veteran and old time board of trade man, died on Friday. Mrs. Rumsey was ill at that time, a victim of pneumonia.

He was to have been buried yesterday afternoon at Oakwoods. The coffin, draped in the glory stained battle flag of his own command in the civil war, was brought into the First Presbyterian church of the suburb.

Carry Out Funeral Ceremony.
It was known in the morning that Mrs. Rumsey could live but a few hours, but the ceremony of the old captain's funeral had been arranged for 1:30 p. m. It was carried out as scheduled. Some of his old soldier friends, who served with him in '61-'65, were present at the church and participated.

NEGRO NURSES' HOME BOMBED; THREE INJURED

Three Negro nurses were injured and thirteen others thrown from their beds last night when a bomb exploded in the Fort Dearborn Hospital Nurses' home at 3718 Grand boulevard.

The building was recently purchased from Dr. Odeon Bourque, white, 3821 Vernon avenue, by C. W. Bibb, partner of the Fort Dearborn hospital and director of the nurses' home, and Dr. R. H. Williams.

Those injured were Corinne Lyles, Josephine Mae Harris, and Lillian Wood. The bomb, of dynamite, was dropped in the hallway. The lower floors are a total wreck. Damage is estimated at $3,000.

SPEED BOAT LAPS HAVANA FLYER IN MIAMI-N. Y. RACE

Detroit Man Sets Fast Pace Against Train.

Miami, Fla., April 25.—The speed boat Gar II Jr., driven by Gar Wood of Detroit, was understood tonight to be running neck and neck with the Havana special of the Atlantic Coast Line in their dash to New York.

The last definite word received since leaving here last night was from near Savannah, Ga., when the motorboat was leading the special by eleven minutes.

Shortly after passing Jacksonville, the message said, rough weather was encountered and a log line was bitten off by a huge fish.

Big Early Lead Out Down.
Earlier in the afternoon the speedy craft had shot far ahead of the fast express in the race from Miami to New York. At 3 o'clock the Gar II Jr. was at Fernandina, Fla., thirty-seven miles north of Jacksonville, fifteen minutes before the Havana special was scheduled to reach the latter city.

AGENT SWEARS $100 IS PRICE OF LABOR BOMBING

Costs $10 to Have Enemy Beaten.

Otto Luedtke, former secretary and business agent of local No. 24 of the upholsterers' union, took the stand in Judge Thomas Taylor's court yesterday and described how officials of that union planned a reign of terrorism and vandalism during the nine months' strike which ended last April.

Luedtke testified he refused to be a party to the campaign of violence, but admitted he handled the funds of the organization during the strike. One hundred dollars, he said, was the price paid for a bombing job, and $10 for a slugging. More than six bombs were touched off, and twenty-five foremen of furniture plants were manhandled.

Three Union Chiefs on Trial.
Three union officials—Edwin E. Graves, vice president of the international organization; Roy F. Hull, business agent of Chicago local No. 111, and Gus T. Krueger, a member of the executive board—are being tried on charges of conspiracy to commit acts of violence. Graves, whose home is in Medford, Mass., fought extradition and was brought back to Chicago for trial only after the Supreme court of Massachusetts had ruled against him.

Luedtke told how the strike was called shortly after the arrival of Graves in Chicago in August, 1919. The employers, he said, offered to pay a minimum of 10 cents an hour, but the men demanded $1 an hour, shorter hours, and the abolition of piece work. He then told of a meeting of the executive board in a rear room at the union's headquarters, 165 North La Salle street.

"Krueger made a motion to adopt slugging," he said. "It was carried. I don't remember all that was said, but I am sure Krueger made the motion to adopt slugging. 'If we hire slugs, it is best to hire outsiders,' some one suggested. 'I will have nothing to do with that work,' I told them."

"Blow Up a Few Places."
"If Otto won't have anything to do with it, some one said, 'we'll get somebody else and he can pay the money.'"

"Hull said: 'The only way we can win this strike is to blow up a few places.' The idea was to blow out the walls on some of the places and cripple the machinery so they couldn't run. In that way they'd also frighten the 'scabs.' Hull said the danger wouldn't be great if it was done at night when nobody was around."

Policeman Interrupts 3 Bandits; Shot

South Park Policeman Charles W. Leonhardt was shot in the right lung last night by one of three bandits when he caught them in the act of robbing a man and a woman. He is at the Washington Park hospital in a serious condition.

He ran fifty feet after he had been shot, chasing the robbers and firing five times in their direction. He believes he hit one of them.

Leonhardt is married and lives at 6336 South Lincoln avenue. He has been a member of the force eight years. He had gone to the administration building with some reports and had talked with Sergt. Timothy Howard about his plans to buy a house "for the wife and kids."

Runs Into a Robbery.
It was near the sunken gardens that he came upon adventure. An automobile stood in the road. In front of it stood a man and a woman, their arms upraised. Facing them were two men with revolvers. So much Leonhardt saw. He drew his revolver and rushed forward.

Then, from behind the automobile a man he had not seen fired three times. The woman, Miss Beatrice Boech, 22 years old, 622 East Fifty-first street, screamed and fainted. Her escort, M. S. Fantl, 5220 Michigan avenue, caught her in his arms.

Policeman Herbert Ball and Sergt. Howard, hearing the shots and the scream, guided by the shots from Leonhardt's revolver, came running through the bushes.

Stumbles Over His Friend.
Ball stumbled over the form of his friend, and, seeing no one else around, stayed there to aid him. The robbers ran through the sunken gardens, pursued, but at a great distance, by Howard and some others. They were seen to dart into Fifty-sixth street and run east. They escaped.

"We had stopped the car," said Fantl, "that we might decide where we wanted to spend the evening. We were in no particular hurry, and we had been there perhaps ten or fifteen minutes when the robbers held us up. They took $15 from me and some money from Miss Boech."

BRITAIN BACKS BRIAND'S NEW COERCION PLAN

Washington Awaits German Note.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, April 25.—[By Wire.]—Germany's new reparations proposals are considered unacceptable to the French government.

By confidential agents in Berlin and Washington, Quasi d'Orsay early this morning was informed that Foreign Minister Briand's offer is below the 226,000,000 gold marks (roughly $26,500,000,000) stipulated in the Paris accord and which Premier Briand has stated was a minimum which could not be reduced.

Le Temps, commenting editorially on the new proposals, said: "We hope the United States facilitates our task by spontaneously rejecting, without even unofficially consulting the allies, any proposals manifestly insufficient."

Expects U. S. to Approve.
If President Harding communicates the proposals—and it is inferred he will in order to start negotiations—the French will consent to discuss the offer at Saturday's supreme council conference.

Premier Briand will reserve the right to occupy the Ruhr basin immediately if no solution appears probable during the conference.

The French are willing to reopen four parties, but they intend to apply new sanctions first in order to improve the Berlin government that France is in earnest and will permit no further trifling.

French Look for Jokers.
The French expect Upper Alsace to be revealed as a joker in the new proposals, the Germans explaining afterward, if an agreement is reached, that their figures were based on their keeping the entire Alsace region.

U. OF I. STUDENTS PLEDGE $700,000 FOR A STADIUM

Champaign, Ill., April 25.—[Special.]
Seven hundred thousand dollars, twice what was expected, was pledged by the students of the University of Illinois today at the largest mass meeting in the history of the institution.

The money is for the largest stadium in the United States, a memorial for the Illinois men who died in the war.

Headed by eighteen $1,000 individual pledges, the 7,000 students promised the total of $700,000 in less than fifteen minutes and nearly wrecked the gymnasium annex where the meeting was held. Students from Cook county alone pledged $200,000.

The Princess Tirathi Kiram of Sulu jumped to her feet and in broken English pledged $1,000. Students from Japan, China, India, South America, the Philippine Islands, Mexico, and nearly all the other countries of the world pledged a total of $30,000.

GIRL 'VISITS' AT FASHIONABLE
SCHOOL; JAILED
Pretty Mabel Galvin, 18 years old, fashionably dressed and apparently well educated, furnished the police of the Chicago avenue station with a mystery yesterday.

The girl, who refused to give her address, was arrested at the request of the authorities of the University School for Girls at 1104 Lake Shore drive. The girl was seen in the school by Miss Constance Warren, associate principal, who, realizing that she didn't "belong" called her into her office to question her. The girl was evasive, and suddenly tried to dart from the room, but was captured.

She admitted visiting other schools on the north side, and it is thought by the police that many of the expensive garments which she was wearing had been stolen.

NIPPON LEADER SAYS FILIPINOS NEED AMERICA

Baron Sakatani Urges Disarmament.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright 1921 by The Chicago Tribune.]

TOKIO, April 25.—Not only should America remain in the Philippines, but it should exert all its influence in the orient.

This is the view of Baron Sakatani, formerly minister of finance and now leader of the barons in the house of peers.

Baron Sakatani goes even further. He says that America should be consulted before the Anglo-Japanese alliance is renewed.

Even if the Philippines were granted independence, he says, the United States should stand ready to aid if trouble should arise.

Talks of Wood's Mission.

Baron Sakatani received THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE correspondent in his palatial house in Tokyo. There he talked freely of the problems confronting Gen. Wood and of Japan's interest in the action recommended.

The baron represents a powerful influence in Japan and is particularly opposed to the armament race. He believes that an ounce of conference is worth tons of steel that is going into warships, and he hopes that a better understanding will come from a discussion in reference to a solution of the Philippine problem, but he fears that complete American withdrawal would only add to Japan's troubles.

Could Natives Stand Alone?

"I know very little of the Philippines and I know very few Filipinos, although I had a recent caller in Speaker Cramer of the house of representatives," he said.

"But the main question is, if American withdrawals, will the Filipinos be able to get along without financial assistance and also without intellectual assistance?"

"Therefore it must be determined whether independence for the Philippines will bring the best results. We must know whether the Filipinos have the necessary money for independence and whether they have capable leaders."

"If so, it is best for America to grant them freedom, but to continue with a proviso for another five or ten years. In this latter event it must be made clear to the Filipinos that America's desire is to grant them independence when they are ready for it."

"I would suggest to Gen. Wood that the best defense for the Philippines is international disarmament. Japan is fortifying all the islands between Sadal and the Philippines and others between Formosa and Japan. This is the strategic point affronting the Philippines."

THE REWARD OF VALOR

Some of the fifty-nine veterans of the great war who were granted citizenship papers yesterday in Judge Landis' court. While their hands were still raised, Judge Landis addressed them. "It was you," he said, "who made it possible for an American court to be sitting here. If you had not done your work, the United States today would be a German colony." Later the new citizens were welcomed by Miss Edith Colton, chairman of the patriotic education committee, General Dearborn, chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was assisted by Mrs. C. H. Shank, Mrs. A. H. Lord, Mrs. John M. Fields, and Miss Martha Parker.

ATHENS REPORTS ALBANIAN ARMY MENACES GREECE

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, April 25.—[By Wire.]—

According to reports from Athens, 6,000 Albanians armed with machine guns and mountain artillery are massed at three points on the Greek frontier and threaten an invasion.

The Greeks are reinforcing their frontier guards as best they can, as they are having their hands full with the Turks in Asia Minor. Furthermore, the Greeks fear the Bulgars and Serbs may attack them, the former seizing Thrace and the latter Saloniki. It is declared Athens is preparing an appeal for aid from the big powers.

To the small investor

Of course you know that it is impossible to arrive unless you start, yet how many people expect some day to have a competence without even making a definite plan for accumulating a surplus to insure it.

The best possible way to save for the future is to have what you have now. Just as fast as possible put your accumulated fund to work earning the highest rate of interest consistent with safety. The easy, simple method of accomplishing that is to buy a high grade bond.

Keep that up systematically. Set a goal. The first thing you know you will be on the highroad toward attaining that competence. We can help you start. Phone, call or write.

ALDERMEN OUST EXPERTS' FOE ON FINANCE BOARD

Wallace Off Committee,
but Will Still Fight.

At the bidding of the Lundin-Thompson organization, Ald. Thomas Wallace, the man who exposed the payments to "experts" by the city administration, was jerked from his place on the council finance committee at the organization of the council last night.

It was his position on the finance committee that enabled Ald. Wallace to dig out the payment of big fees to experts.

After the city council had acted, Ald. Wallace arose and addressed Mayor Thompson and his fellow aldermen, as follows:

"The only reason for taking me off the committee is politics. It was done because I had the guts to stand up and tell you gentlemen of the big fees being paid experts. But I warn you: attend the meetings of the committee whether I am a member or not. If there are any more payments of $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 fees to experts, I'll be there."

Ald. Wallace's place on the finance committee is taken by Ald. John Powers of the Nineteenth ward. In reports the Municipal Voters' league declared repeatedly that Powers was the leader of the discredited element of the council. Ald. Wallace's charges, Ald. Steffen, is also made a member of the new finance committee.

Only Five Oppose Slate.

Last night's organization of the new council—the first since the guiding hand of the M. V. L. was removed from the aldermen—was put over with only five dissenting votes. The new organization makes Ald. Anton J. Cermak, chairman of the committee on roads, industries, and compensation, member of the special subcommittee on finance committee.

Ald. O'Toole dethroned Ald. Joseph Kostner as chairman of the building committee. Thompson leaders declared themselves well satisfied with the new organization. Ald. L. E. Anderson, the mayor's floor leader, was made a member of the four most important committees.

Backers of Committees.

'INSURGENTS' AT VALPARAISO 'U' WIN; PREXY OUT

Dr. Hodgdon Blames
Ex-Soldiers.

Student "insurgents" at Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Ind., have won their fight.

President Daniel Russell Hodgdon sent his resignation to the board of trustees yesterday.

"The university is a hotbed of bolshevism, communism, and other evils," Dr. Hodgdon said, "and nothing we could do to thwart their propaganda has been of any avail because of sinister inside influences."

"The stream of propaganda can be traced to the very heart of the federal government, so firmly are its propagandists entrenched."

Aims at Former Soldiers.

By this last remark, Dr. Hodgdon evidently meant the more than 100 former soldiers sent to the university by the government board of vocational education.

It was one of these men, Jack Pierce, who began the agitation to oust the president. He charged that the administration was trying to make "the poor man's Harvard" a regular Harvard, by payments to students who were prominent in athletics, and trying to introduce "a lot of new ideas that do not jibe with the traditions of the university."

Split Into Two Camps.

Pierce was head of the student council, which passed a resolution demanding the resignation of the university head. The faculty held a hurried meeting and dissolved the council.

The students split into two camps, the federal board men backing Pierce solidly and threatening to leave college if he were expelled. Dr. W. O. Winkler, dean of men, halted an incipient riot by praying five minutes.

Dr. Hodgdon before he went to Valparaiso was head of the Newark College of Technology, Newark, N. J., and later president of the Hahnemann Medical college of Chicago.

$400,000 DIVORCE
IN HALF HOUR FOR WESTBOUND BRIDE

Omaha, Neb., April 25.—(Special.)—Mrs. Madeline Frank Brandeis of San Francisco, wife of E. John Brandeis, arrived last night, appeared in divorce court at 8:30 this morning, and received her decree at 9 o'clock.

At $95 she was handed $50,000 as first payment of her alimony of $400,000 and left tonight for San Francisco with notes and securities totaling $350,000 more. She charged her husband with cruelty. The case was not contested.

Young Brandeis is the son of the late Arthur Brandeis, vice president of Stearns Brothers New York department store. He is worth many millions. He is 23. Mrs. Brandeis is 22.

FLOOR LEADER

Louis B. Anderson of the Second ward, Mayor Thompson's floor leader. Anderson opposed a resolution in the council last night for an investigation of the manner in which civil service employees are "shaken down" to build up the circulation of the Republican, the mayor's "official organ." In the reorganization of the council Anderson was given a place on the four most important committees.

$50,000 A DAY SAVED CITY ON FOODS, SAYS COUNCIL H. C. L. BOARD

THE annual report of the council committee on the high cost of living, prepared by Russell J. Poole, secretary, was submitted to the city council last night by Ald. Max Adamowski. The report declares that the committee has been responsible for a reduction in living costs which has saved the citizens of Chicago upward of $50,000 a day and it asks that the appropriation for its activities be increased from $10,000 to $25,000.

The report asserts reductions in the cost of milk, brought about in large measure by the committee, are saving citizens $20,000 a day; reductions in the cost of bread are saving $30,000 more, and $5,367 a day is being saved for patrons of twenty-three restaurants where prices were reduced.

MAYPOLE ASKS QUIZ ON 'TAX' FOR CITY HALL PAPER

Resolution Is Referred to One of Mayor's Men.

Ald. George W. Maypole threw the city council into an uproar last night by demanding an investigation of the "shaking down" of civil service employees to build up the circulation of the Republican, the city hall newspaper.

"Charges are being made publicly," he told the council, "that civil service employees are being subjected to what is known in the vernacular of the street as a shakedown."

"Civil service employees have complained to me as a member of the finance committee that their present salaries are not sufficient for them to live on. If the time has come when civil service men and women have to dig up part of their salaries to build up a political machine, and if you as aldermen and you, Mr. Mayor, approve of this alleged practice, then we had better raise employees' salaries to meet the increased demands made for political assessments."

Demands Sweeping Inquiry.

The Maypole resolution called for an investigation by the council committee on civil service and an inquiry by both the state's attorney and the attorney general. It also hit the sale of tickets to the Lundin-Thompson picnic.

The paragraph dealing with the Republican follows: "It is openly charged in the public press that duly certified civil service employees have been compelled to pay in cash by their department, bureau, or division heads, for from one to five or more annual subscriptions to a newspaper known as the Republican, well known to be a partisan political newspaper."

Ald. Anderson, Mayor Thompson's colored floor leader, demanded that the resolution be sent to the civil service committee, of which Ald. Armitage, a Thompson-Lundin supporter, is chairman. Ald. Bowler also took a stand against adopting the resolution.

"I'm for an investigation," said Ald. Woodhull.

Sent to Thompson Chairman.

On a motion to suspend the rules for the adoption of the resolution the vote was 21 yeas to 21 nays. A two-thirds vote was required and Mayor Thompson sent the resolution to the civil service committee, despite Ald. Maypole's request that it be sent to the finance committee.

"I don't wonder you shut me off without a chance to talk," Ald. Maypole told the mayor. "I've got five tickets on the Riverview celebration in my pocket which were sold by a detective sergeant traveling out of the state's attorney's office."

GALPIN FACTION RECESSES UNTIL CITY HALL ACTS

Will Have Last Word on Judicial Ticket.

BY PARKE BROWN.

In order to have the last word before the judicial election of June 6 the Republican county convention, which met yesterday at the call of Homer K. Galpin as chairman of the county committee, remained in session only a few minutes and then took a recess until May 4.

The Lundin-Thompson faction, which claims that Charles V. Barrett replaced Galpin by an "election" on March 18, will hold a convention on Wednesday, May 3. By the recessing of the Galpin convention a reply to the declarations of the Barrett convention is made possible. The Galpin convention on the later date also is expected to endorse, by resolution at least, the coalition ticket consisting of fourteen sitting judges and six new candidates which the Democratic convention will nominate today.

City Hall Scouts Present.

Although there had been no expectation that the Galpin convention would proceed to nominations or transact any other important business, the city hall was represented there. John Tyrrell, assistant state attorney and one of the probable nominees for the Circuit court on the city hall ticket, and Ben Newmark, chief investigator for the state's attorney were on hand.

The Democratic executive committee held a final session to discuss the selection today of the five candidates in addition to the five sitting Democratic judges who are to be placed on the "independent bench" ticket. It was reported that the candidates who seemed to be in the lead were Ald. Thomas J. Lynch, Municipal Judge John E. Caverly and Harry M. Fisher, Philip Sullivan, and Ira Ryner. It also was said that the Democratic nominee for the one, Superior court seat to be filled in June will probably be Timothy D. Hurley. The incumbent is Judge Theodore Brentano, a close friend of the city hall.

Holdom to Go with City Hall.

The Democratic committee was notified that Judge Jesse Holdom, who insists that he never agreed to lend his name in the Democratic column, although he had agreed to join the coalition movement, had definitely decided to take his chances of a city hall nomination.

"Politically speaking," said one of the Democratic leaders, "this can't be considered a loss for our ticket. There are two judges who will be fought as 'injunction judges' by the labor unions. That they both chose to stick to the city hall ticket cannot be displeasing even in connection with a non-partisan movement such as this one."

3 CHILDREN OF RICH EASTERNERS MISSING 3 DAYS

2 Boys and Girl, 14, 15,
16, Run Away.

Long Branch, N. J., April 25.—[Special.]—Police of all eastern cities have been asked to locate three high school students, two boys and a girl, members of prominent families of Long Branch, who disappeared in a motor car Friday evening.

The missing children are Ruth White, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles White; Garrett Disbrow Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Disbrow; and Bradford Ziegler, 15, all of Long Branch.

The police and families of the children have attempted to keep the disappearance secret, and the local police until this morning denied all knowledge of the case.

One Girl Refuses to Go.

The police admitted to day that Friday the trio, with Dora Hibetta, 15, school girl, left the Chatter High school here, which all attend, in the car belonging to Mr. Disbrow and driven by the Disbrow boy. About 8 o'clock, according to the police, the party returned to Long Branch and left the Hibetta girl, who declined to proceed farther with the party. The gasoline tank of the car was refilled and the three left and disappeared.

Mrs. White, mother of the missing girl, is prostrated.

Miss Hibetta returned to school this morning, but her father declined to permit her to talk with any one about the plans of the party, and whatever the police have learned from this source is being kept secret.

Boy Has $10 Scout Fund.

Charles Blakeslee, assistant principal of the Chatter High school, and scoutmaster of Boy Scout troop of which young Disbrow is a member, said the boy had $10 of the troop funds in his keeping. Mrs. Ziegler says Bradford had very little money, so far as she knows.

At the Chatter High school Miss White is spoken of in highest terms, and Disbrow is said to have been a well liked student.

1,700 ON CELTIC NEAR DEATH IN NEW YORK FOG

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—The White Star liner Celtic arrived today from Liverpool after a close call from being cut in half in a dense fog at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and sent to the bottom with its 1,700 passengers.

The day dawned with a thick haze in the air, the fog increasing to a density that made the atmosphere blacker than night. Capt. F. V. Howarth, on the bridge, kept his steamer under a slow bell, sounding his whistle at intervals.

Suddenly, off the Celtic's port bow, a warning came from a ship's siren. The captain rang to stop the ship, and before the engines had ceased purring rang again for full speed astern.

A big mass loomed up through the fog, and not two minutes later the freighter Everett crossed the Celtic's bow, about fifty feet ahead.

Because—

I will pay you FIVE DOLLARS for your vote, and I am no grifter, either. Here is the idea—I want to be the most popular tailor in Chicago. I ought to be, because I am making more clothes than any other tailor in the town. Anyhow, every order taken in my store for a suit during the next 30 days will be a vote for HARRY MITCHELL. And I am perfectly willing to pay FIVE DOLLARS for every vote like that.

I don't care if I don't make any money in the next 30 days. My experience shows that when I have a lot of customers I make money, BECAUSE every satisfied customer comes back for his NEXT suit and brings one or two friends with him. And I think I have the right dope.

What I really want is to make a drive for 1,800 customers in the next 30 days—even if I don't make a cent off of them.

Here's the system:—Cut the COUPON out of my ad. Bring it to my store. Select the best fabric. Be measured for a suit at $39, $49 or $59. I will accept your COUPON as FIVE DOLLARS CASH as part of your first payment. That means that your suit will cost you only $34, $44 or $54—and I will give you an EXTRA PAIR OF TROUSERS FREE!

If you have a friend or two—bring them along. I will furnish the coupons for them. I want you to see the high-grade fabrics—made by America's finest woolen mills, such as the Shuckamaxon, Perseverance, Kunhardt, Coronet, Olympic, Wanskuck, Paragon, Warren, Hockanum, French Rivers and others. They're the woolens for which the high-price tailors soak you hard.

What I want is CUSTOMERS! What you want is SATISFACTION. Come in and "vote" for me now and you will get precisely the same fabrics that the high-price tailors ask $75 to $125 for—and you'll get better tailoring. And you'll get the EXTRA TROUSERS FREE—besides I GUARANTEE TO SATISFY YOU IN EVERY WAY.

Yours truly,

HARRY MITCHELL

OYSTER'S
WIDOW C
BY LATE
Aged Millionaire
Disinherit

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—Mrs. Cecil Oyster, widow of Oyster, the 76 year old man, horse breeder, and one of the city's most prominent citizens, who died last week, will not be cut off by her husband's will. Some of Mr. Oyster's friends expressed surprise that the will should be so favorable to the widow, who had been the subject of much gossip. The will, which protects the rights of married women, is being contested by the Oyster family.

Protected by the law, the widow will receive one-half of the estate, which is estimated at $100,000. The will, which was drawn up by a local attorney, is being contested by the Oyster family, who claim that the widow is not entitled to the estate. The case is being heard by the Supreme Court.

Good Judge of "Wor" Some of his friends associated with him in the past, and others who were in the apartment at 412 North Dearborn, where he lived, are expected to appear in court. The case is being heard by the Supreme Court.

May Attack the "Wor" If she is cut off from her husband's estate, she may try attacking the will and the codicil or the will itself under duress. Nothing definite could be learned from the attorney, although it is expected that the case will be heard by the Supreme Court.

Mr. Oyster, whose brother, F. Oyster, is one of the city's most prominent citizens, was a horse breeder and a successful businessman. He was known for his generosity and his love of horses.

MYSTER'S YOUNG WIDOW CUT OFF BY LATE WILL?

Aged Millionaire Said to Disinherit Bride.

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—Mrs. Cecil Ready Oyster, 56, widow of George M. Oyster, the 74-year-old millionaire dairy farmer, horse breeder, and art collector of this city, who died Sunday at the hotel in Atlantic City, N. J., will not be cut off "without a penny" from her husband's estate, despite rumors and news dispatches to the effect that his last act was to draw a codicil to his will for that purpose.

Some of Mr. Oyster's legal friends expressed surprise that he would incorporate such a codicil in his will in view of the specific provision in the laws of the District of Columbia, which protects the inchoate dower rights of married women.

Protected by Law.

According to the law Mrs. Oyster will receive one-sixth interest for life in her husband's real estate, no matter what his will reads or how it is altered by any codicil.

The young widow cannot be left penniless by any act of her husband, intentional or otherwise. The sixth interest in real estate is protected by law and rules of equity for a "healthy woman under thirty."

There is apparently no doubt but that Mr. Oyster did direct his attorney to draw a codicil to his will at the moment, but friends believe it was for the purpose of cutting the widow from any benefits that might otherwise accrue from the personal property owned in the estate.

Good Judge of "Works of Art."

Some of his friends who had been associated with him in horse breeding and others who were art patrons, it was declared, had gone so far as to express their opinion of a "May and November" marriage to him right after the report of his engagement to the Miss Cecil Ready of Syracuse, N. Y., and were told by Mr. Oyster that his ability to judge horses and works of art had not left him.

Mrs. Oyster has remained secluded in her apartment at the Wardman Park hotel here ever since her husband went to Atlantic City in company with a nephew and a physician, denying herself to every one but her intimate friends and her attorney. She attended the funeral services tomorrow.

May Attack the Will.

If she cut off from all benefits from her husband's personal estate, it was learned, she may try to get relief by attacking the will and charging that a codicil or the will itself was drawn under duress.

Nothing definite could be learned as to the existence of an ante-nuptial agreement, although it was reported after the marriage that Mr. Oyster was decidedly liberal in the "pin money" allowing his wife, who was said, $1,000 a week spending money.

Mr. Oyster, whose brother, Captain F. Oyster, is one of the commissioners of the District of Columbia, before he could receive an honorarium had worked all his life to receive that of official recognition from the highest authorities as to his ability as a horse breeder and a judge of fine flesh. If he had recovered he would have become a chieftain of the state du Merit Agricole—organization fostered by the French government for the purpose of improving the breed of heavy draft animals and fast racing horses.

WOMEN MEET SATURDAY.

Mrs. Oyster's association will meet Saturday afternoon at the Hotel Sherman. Her friends will be considered, and interest will be announced for the following meetings.

EXPECT VERDICT IN H. P. CRANE JR. CASE TONIGHT

Young Man Denies He Attacked Girls.

Herbert P. Crane Jr., on trial in Judge Thomson's court for an alleged attack on two little girls in Lincoln park last January, will probably know his fate tonight. The attorneys are expected to make their final arguments this afternoon and the case will then go to the jury.

Crane, on the witness stand, stoutly maintained that he had never seen Marie Fischer and Louise Sturm before the night they confronted him in the North Halsted street police station.

Says Girls Hesitated.

"One of the officers asked the girls to identify me," testified Crane, "but they both hesitated and had to be urged before they would even speak. They apparently knew me no better than I knew them."

Then Crane recounted his activities on the day of the attack. He declared he had left the house during the afternoon for only ten minutes, and, after a short walk, had returned to have dinner with his housekeeper, Mrs. Sarah Frizell. Cross-examination by Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Peden failed to shake his story.

College Careers Brief.

Some amusement among spectators was caused when the young man said he had entered Yale when 19 years old, returned to work for his father after three months, and had then matriculated at the University of Chicago, remaining there also for three months.

URGES MERGER OF U. S. RAILWAYS IN FIVE SYSTEMS

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—Consolidation of the principal railroads of the United States into five great transcontinental railroad systems was proposed today in a petition filed with the Interstate Commerce commission by Fred Brown Whitney of Waukegan, Ill., a stockholder in several of the principal railroad corporations.

Mr. Whitney said he had served as chairman of the committee on economical treaties and trade agreements of the American Manufacturers' Export association.

Mr. Whitney asks consolidations through a limited number of transcontinental systems with north and south roads as feeders.

DIARY GIVES LIE TO TALES TOLD IN STOKES CASE

Peepers' Peepings Put in Ananias Class.

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—Entries made by Mrs. W. E. D. Stokes in a diary she kept during the years her husband says were filled with wrongdoings were offered in evidence at the divorce trial before Supreme Court Justice Finch today.

Counsel for Mr. Stokes objected strenuously. Justice Finch, however, ruled the entries made by Mrs. Stokes in her diary should be admitted to refresh her memory after her counsel had proved that she started the diary when she was a girl.

The diary was first used to combat the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Zenos Mattoessian, who asserted they knew Mrs. Stokes in the apartment of Edgar T. Wallace "toward the end of Mrs. Stokes' 1914."

The diary showed Mrs. Stokes was confined to her apartment at the Ansonia during that month. She told of a party given by her husband in the apartment on May 15, attended by many women, but she could recall no names.

Denies Wallace Charges.

During July and August, when witnesses for Stokes said they saw his wife in the Wallace apartment, the diary showed she was either in Denver with her mother or in Kentucky. On Sept. 10, when George Thornton, the Negro janitor, said Mrs. Stokes spent part of the afternoon and evening in the Wallace apartment, the diary showed that she was in Denver with her mother. Her son, James, was born on the next day.

Mrs. Stokes wrote that during that summer while she was at the Ansonia she was dieting and required special dishes, and the entry in the diary stated that her husband was angry and compelled her to go with him to the public dining room for dinner.

When a servant smuggled in a special dish he was charged by Stokes and Mrs. Stokes ate nothing until the following afternoon, when a woman friend brought in food.

"Did Not Drink or Smoke."

"It was an absolute untruth when Juliette, the maid, testified that I would come home as late as 12 o'clock at night and smoke cigarettes while playing with the outboard," said Mrs. Stokes. "I never had a key to the apartment, because Mr. Stokes wouldn't let me have one."

Telling of the visit of her cousin, Hal Billig, on New Year's eve, 1918, which resulted in her husband leaving her after Mr. Billig had been ordered out of the house, Mrs. Stokes said her cousin was a lieutenant in the aircraft service, and came here on business. She met him at the station and took him to her home.

Two Lucky They Don't Get Noose, Judge Tells Them

You're lucky that I'm not sentencing you to the gallows. It's not your fault that I'm not."

With these words Judge George Kersten yesterday sent Edward Cogdon to the penitentiary for from ten years to life. With him went Irvin Potts, his companion in the robbery of William P. Wisheart, cashier for the Credit Life Insurance company, who had been relieved of a $3,000 pay roll. When Wisheart resisted, Cogdon attempted to shoot him. The gun failed to discharge, however. Potts, who pleaded guilty, was sentenced to serve from three to twenty years.

CANDID THIEF OF AUTO IS LINKED WITH MAIL GANG

Saturday night Detective Sergeant Neary, Vaughn, and Cox of the motor detail spied a man in an automobile at Monroe and Paulina streets.

"Where'd you get that car?" one of them asked.

"My name's John Fries, and I stole this car from Jimmy Shupe," the man answered. "Jimmy" Shupe, the detective knew, is the brother of Thomas Shupe, under indictment for the Union station $100,000 mail robbery.

The police booked Fries on a charge of disorderly conduct.

TOLL EXEMPTION WILL ROB THE MIDWEST.

Senator Borah of Idaho and Senators Jones and Poinsett of Washington have sponsored the bill by which another attempt will be made in congress to exempt American shipping from the Panama canal tolls. Borah would exempt coastwise shipping. Jones and Poinsett would exempt all American shipping.

In 1913 Mr. Wilson, arguing against exemption, said that the international aspect of it was serious. A good many things have changed in the world since then and no doubt the United States can put the interpretation it chooses on the treaty and hold that equal passage applies to all nations other than the United States. We in the Mississippi valley are concerned with the domestic issue, not the international.

American vessels using the canal paid nearly $5,000,000 last year in tolls. Exemption will mean that this amount will be remitted as a subsidy to the producers and shippers of the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard and used as a means of putting the midwest shipper and producer to a disadvantage.

The Atlantic and Pacific seaboard know what they want and they know how to get it. The manufacturing and commercial interests of New York, New England and Pennsylvania have organized force and great influence. The associations of interests on the Pacific coast, such as the fruit growers, have cohesion, common purpose and great influence.

The midwest merely pays taxes. When a dollar of Mississippi valley money goes into the national pocket it is lost to the midwest. It does not come back. It goes elsewhere. It may build or maintain shipyards east, west or south. It may dredge southern rivers. It may build battleships. It may do almost anything except something which would be of advantage to the section from which it came.

The Mississippi valley was not exempt from the taxation upon which the Panama canal rests. The midwest shippers and producers paid their money and will continue to pay it, but it is insisted by the special coalition that the canal which the nation built shall be converted into a commercial advantage to two politically powerful sections and into a disadvantage to a section seemingly negligible politically.

The inland producer cannot meet the prices which the coast producer, aided by a transportation subsidy, can make. The inland producer uses the rail and he meets a water competition in the market which the government should knock off the tolls in order that the cost of hauling may be reduced.

The inland producer whose money went into the canal finds the government willing to use the canal to his own disadvantage and to the advantage of his rivals east and west.

Mr. Poinsett, Mr. Jones and Mr. Borah of the far west may think it equitable that the coast fruit growers should have government assistance in cutting under the rates at which the Michigan fruit grower can transport and distribute his product, but the Michigan fruit grower who put his money into the canal will not understand why a coast apple producer should use it to cut under his prices.

The Michigan and Wisconsin automobile maker will not understand why the government should take their money and with it give a transportation rebate to the eastern manufacturer and enable him to beat the mid-westerner to the Pacific market with a lower price.

The midwest dairy products manufacturer will not understand why the government should give a transportation subsidy to eastern products and open a cheap carriage to markets with money which the midwest helped to provide. Philadelphia railroad products will have this national subsidy and Chicago equipment makers will help pay it to enable their rivals to beat them. Illinois and Indiana steel will help pay the subsidy to eastern steel. Illinois watch makers will pay it to eastern watch makers. The clothes makers of Chicago will pay the freight for the clothes makers of New York.

The midwest helped build the canal. With the tolls off it becomes the private property, commercially, for the Atlantic and Pacific coast. It is an inequity which only powerful interests could obtain for themselves, but if they do obtain it, it will not be without a fight.

When the midwest seeks a waterway for its relief, a route for the raw materials and products of the lakes and Mississippi valley to the sea, New York and the east stand in the way and try to prevent the use of the nation's money for the benefit of this section. We do not here accept the principle that this region is to be taxed but not benefited, to pay but to get nothing.

We may stand for a payment of $5,000,000 a year to Colombia, but not for a payment of $5,000,000 to Atlantic and Pacific competitors of producers in the midwest.

FREE JUDGES.

The sitting judges who have agreed to stand for re-election on the free judges ticket, to be nominated by the Democratic convention and to be supported by all citizens who object to political control of the judiciary, have made the contest possible. They are doing a great service to the people and, we believe, to themselves. The control which Thompson and Lundin seek is one under which a free judge could not be content.

It is one with which he would be in conflict and if he derived his authority from the control of Thompson and Lundin and then was not content under it, he would be out at the next election. The nomination of the free judges by the Democrats is in effect non-partisan. It is the means by which Republicans opposed to Thompson and Lundin and all other citizens opposed to the city hall dominance of all government, administrative, legislative and judicial, can organize their opposition.

THE UNITED STATES IS AGAIN A POWER.

Development of a new reparations offer from Germany together with much foreign press comment and an occasional glimpse of a diplomatic note from across the sea is beginning to inspire a very pleasant new sense of confidence in the American state department and through it in the future of our international relations.

Less than two months ago the retiring administration left the United States practically bankrupt in the faith, confidence, and influence which are essential to a proper conduct of foreign affairs. Many if not all of the foreign offices had no confidence in us, and we had practically no diplomatic influence with them. Within less than two months of the new administration all this has been changed.

President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes have stated the position of the United States to the world so clearly and concisely that there is no room for misunderstanding. They have made it plain that the pitter inability of the old administration to define an international policy which would have national support did not mean that there could be no such policy. They have made it plain that the rights of the United States were not and could not be signed away by any understanding among foreign nations. They have made it plain that there is no spirit of conquest or aggrandizement in this country, but that all we want is a sound basis for our own economic prosperity and a stable foundation for the peace of the world. In brief, they have put the United States back at the international conference table after a lapse of nearly two years with as much or more influence than we had when we left that conference table.

Europe has suffered by the delay in settlement, but some advantage has come out of that delay through the improved perspective which time has afforded. We can see the faults of European jealousies, ambitions, and fears now in a way impossible two years ago. We can understand the very natural causes for these things. And probably we can help to equalize justice and jealousy in a way which would have been impossible two years ago. If we can do that we will bring a stronger assurance of peace than the world has known for many years. To do so it is necessary to let the nations involved know that what we want is little—a shadow compared with what they want—but that what we want we will certainly get, because it is our right. That is a point which the new administration apparently is making clear. It is through such clearness that we are returning to the position of a power among the nations.

THE HIGH COST OF EXPERTS' STAFFS.

Ernest H. Lyons, one of the three real estate experts employed by the city on six street improvements, puts the matter of his $577,436.41 fee aside with the casual observation that "it can be readily seen that the men who are doing this work on percentage must maintain large staffs of assistants and proper equipment, and spend many long and weary days in court."

Perhaps he is right. If so he could add greatly to the value of his interesting discussion of fees and expediting published in the Evanston News-Index by appending a table of his staff expenses. A simple list of the members of his staff together with the total amount drawn from him by each employee would be sufficient. It would then be comparatively easy to check up the amount of work actually done by each employee for his individual stipend.

And as to the "many long and weary days in court," Mr. Lyons overlooks entirely the fact that a per diem fee of $50 in addition to the percentage fee is allowed for such service. Or perhaps he doesn't overlook it. In any event Mr. Lyons runs true to the form of city building and real estate experts in defense of their tremendous collections from Chicago taxpayers. It is very simple. The experts get only an insignificant fraction of the money. The great bulk of it goes to their hard-working draftsmen, clerks, etc. Such being the case, a glimpse at the pay roll might satisfy a lot of annoying curiosity. Why do the experts not silence criticism by revealing their output with convincing proofs?

Editorial of the Day

THE KNEE CRAZE.

(Detroit News.)

Tempus fugit. Alas! tempora! O mores! Where a few years ago ankles were adorned with a bluish of modesty or an air of midnight bravado, now it is knees. This, apparently, is a result of the higher education.

It is the brooding Hamlet who said something about croaking "the pregnant hinges of the knee," and the king alluded to his own as "stubborn" when meditating on the efficacy of prayer where his offense was so rank "it smells to heaven." Neither Hamlet nor the king says a word about having dimples, while John Lyly, about the close of the sixteenth century, declared in sprightly verse that, in Cupid, the proper and obvious place for a dimple is the chin.

The difference between Hamlet and his associates and the kneephobes of the present day is that with the former the knee was incidental to other things, prayer, for example, while now everything is incidental to the knee. No one yet has penned a sonnet to his lady's knees, or if he has he has not published it, but evidently that will happen shortly.

The study of the human knee is not a popular one, and hence it is surprising that it should be receiving so much attention, except on the cynical theory that the world has grown weary of other enthusiasms and will look at knees much as it will look at ears, when they reach the point of exposure, out of sheer novelty. Probably and physically, a man's weak point is his knee, and, as all the world knows, the Scottish habit of exposing the knees originated simply in the malicious desire to irritate alien beholders in the hope of a fight.

In a general policy of obscuring knees, dispassionate bystanders will concur, on the same theory that they like a hedge of blue bushes in front of a fine fence. Of course, if it is to be primarily a question of dimples, that requires another adjustment of reflection, without reflecting, so to speak, on the knee, which, however, seems to be, after all, the bone of contention.

WELL, IS IT!

Mr. Gompers thinks it is never too late to form a union.—Boston Herald.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

See what tomorrow brings, you tell me, Nay,
The endless chain of quips, you tell me, Nay,
May turn out, October, then, October May,
Printed in the morning, when a stamp, addressed envelope is closed,
And Colby's boots are filled by Mister Hughes,
While onward normalcy resumes its way,
The weather changes it, but never change the shoes—
Why is tomorrow better than today?

It was a very foolish thing, I say,
To rouse ambition in primordial ooze.
Monotony is patterned in the clay.
An endless pattern we shall never lose
Of ears and noses, kings and cockades,
Of wit and jest, bors and popinjays,
Of weather, words, and musical reviews—
Why is tomorrow better than today?

Life is forever Monday, dark and grey;
I see along the timeless avenue
The cosmic wheel forever on display.
How dull a world is this that I must choose!
Yet it may be as dull as Belgium.
The only tune the heavenly spheres can play
Rings in my ears—a sort of Boredom Blues.
Why is tomorrow better than today?

Friends! To all close and dear I bid adieu.
Now let it be June thirty-first for aye.
For calendars serve only to confuse—
Why is tomorrow better than today?

Idylls of Spring.
"When that April" bringeth all the trash together
That drifted over the lawn in winter's wind,
And with the wind and the rain and the sleet
So naught but cleanliness is left behind;
Oh, then the purging flame performs its office
And up to heaven a sweet aroma sends,
And ashes fall upon our wind-whipped lawn—
But what's a weekly wash between good friends?

WHY the delay? Prof. Einstein has been here almost three weeks, and Mr. Griffith has not obtained the exclusive movie rights for a real superlunary. Maybe the scientists have not adjusted the continuity of the relativity. Annoying, these details.

"The main difficulty," writes Dr. Eddington, "in giving an account in simple language is that the whole theory is a revolt against simple language. If the theory is made so simple that it is understandable, it is no longer the theory. Relativity space and time to their proper source—the observer—Einstein's use of the term 'residuum' of what we observe. This residuum is the true world. Mathematics is the only language in which the inherent qualities of this residuum can be described. One recalls Nietzsche: 'It would seem as though we had before us, as a reward for all our toil, a country still unknown to us. It is a land where no one has yet seen, a beyond to every country and every refuge of the ideal that man has ever known, a world so different from the one we know, that doubt, terror, and divinity that both our curiosity and our lust of possession are frantic with eagerness.'"

White lilies are for poet's mistresses
Who died before the rounded fruit turned red;
White roses are for virgins whose long dead
Whispered brows shivered 'neath their sun-kissed tresses.

Snowdrops are for the little children's graves
Which silenced laughter ere it had begun;
And here are lilies for the weeded lawn,
Which once were the graves of the dead and the young.
But when I die, let scarlet poppies grow
Out of the dust that fills my little mound.
For I have sown the seeds of golden fruit and found
How rich and warm its fragrant juices flow.

Perhaps the village yeomanry would be mildly interested to learn that the tattered scene of the Wagner opera is immortalized in the drollery of the achievements of either Charles Chaplin or Frank Tinney.

April.

You April child, with wistful tear-wet face,
Tuck your bare feet beneath your petticoat
And stay with me a while. You are so shy.
You have gray eyes, and deep,
Like rain clouds, and as soft as pussy willows.
So gently and so sweetly, I had dreamed, some way,
That April was a laughing, dancing child.
Come, let me look again. I'll brush away
The long lashed shadows that obscure your eyes.
Why, there's a reflected glances never dreamed—
Such daffodils and golden light and song.
The long lashed shadows that obscure your eyes.
You have been April fooling all along.

But now I see the rainbows in your tears.

HAZARDS OF MOTHERHOOD.
B ecoming a mother is a rather hazardous business. In the 1918 census office report it is stated that motherhood was the cause of the deaths of 17,471 women in the registration area in that year. One out of 62 deaths was that of a mother who gave her life in her effort to discharge her duty to society.

When we remember that the figures only apply to married women of child bearing age, the group is seen to be smaller and therefore the average hazard is greater. But not every married woman of child bearing age had a baby every year. One group is still too large.

An investigation made by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company showed that motherhood was the cause of every 185 confinements. In other words, in a group of 185 women shortly to be confined, it could be expected that 1 would fail to survive. The hazard begins to look larger. If 185 men contemplating a trip to Panama were told that according to the prevailing average of the group would die on the trip, some of the crowd would elect to stay at home.

To state the case of the danger in another way: According to the prevailing average the mother who hopes to lose her life in childbirth before she has contributed her expected addition to the population. If a little more than five children about the average number a woman can bear without forfeiting her life, it is any wonder that some reckless women set the limit at 5, more cautious ones at 4, the timid at 3, and the very timid refuse to take any chance?

Of course, the danger was worse in the "good old days." Two weeks ago I visited an old time cemetery largely filled with the graves of women who died in childbirth. The tombstones showed that the parents of 80 years ago had large families, rarely less than 5 to 10 children. But the grave record also showed that the parents of 80 years ago had large families, rarely less than 5 to 10 children. But the grave record also showed that the parents of 80 years ago had large families, rarely less than 5 to 10 children.

Women now have their rights and they demand that the vocation of motherhood be made safe, just as men have demanded that certain vocations of theirs be made safe. The same report of the Metropolitan shows that when good prenatal care and maternity care is given the death rate of mothers has been reduced 50 per cent. There are only two deaths for each 1,000 confinements instead of 5, the prevailing rate where such care is not given. Instead of an average expectancy of 5 babies without losing her life a mother can figure on 12 and still be safe, according to the prevailing rate. That's more like it.

Of course the babies are safer, too. The statistics show a reduction from 45 to 12 and the death rate of babies.

YOU ARE MISTAKEN.
A Mother writes: "I should like to help the high school girl who asks how to get rid of it in her hair. Neither vinegar nor kerosene will do any good, as they feed on keratin. Use 10 cents worth of red precipitate mixed with fresh lard made into a salve and rubbed into the scalp, the head covered with a cloth overnight, two or three nights, then shampoo."

REPLY.
You are wrong in your statement that out your hair will eat kerosene. Either you have confused your hair or the oil dealers are selling you fake kerosene. When kerosene and vinegar fail it is because the instructions are not carried out in detail. Kerosene is so distasteful to lice that they try to escape from a treated head and may take temporary refuge in the clothing.

SCULPTURE BY SALLY JAMES FARNHAM.

Chicago, April 22.—(Editor of the Tribune.)—Be a good sport, break up a pernicious habit, get away from a shabby precedent. Just somewhere here conspicuously that the Bolivar monument in New York City, about which so much fuss was made a few days ago, was designed, modeled, "sculptured" by Sally James Farnham of New York.

Mayhap other decent journals will follow your lead and do ditto. I'm not scolding THE TRIBUNE. The blame for this omission lies in the slack methods of the press associations. If a certain horse wins a race it's dollars to doughnuts its owner is named in the news. If a bank is burgled the burglar is named, or it is supposed to be so and so's. So why the heck ever the name of the author's name does not go with it? Even our movies blazon forth who directs the show, who photographed it, and who wrote it. But when a fine building is completed columns of matter may be given to a description of its good points and charms, but nary a word as to the producer of the beautiful monument.

And so with sculpture. Sculptors and architects seem to be taboo; no publicity for us. For instance, this Bolivar affair. The press dispatches gave the speeches, the history of old Bolivar, all about the crowds, the dresses worn, and so on, but never a word about the producer of the beautiful monument.

Incidentally it's also the first great monument done by an American woman. The award was made after a world competition, in which all the big sculptors participated, and she won hands down. I can't speak for Bolivar's resemblance. For I never met the gent, but I do know Bolivar, and the animal the old general is surely a beauty. But, then, Mrs. Farnham is a horsewoman of high degree herself, so it's no wonder she has given us the best horse of any of the bronze animals we see in New York, Washington, or Chicago.

F. W. FITZPATRICK.

STOP THE ARMING OF BANDITS.

Forest Park, Ill., April 22.—(Editor of the Tribune.)—On Friday, April 16, there were three murderers executed in Chicago, one of whom had at least killed five innocent victims. There are innumerable holdups and robberies daily. Often these crimes are blamed on moon men and degenerates and there may be much truth in that, but ought not the authorities keep the weapons away from them? The average peaceful citizen is at the mercy of these crooks, because he has not got a gun, while they have. Either everybody should have the right to carry a gun, or the manufacture and sale of arms and ammunition should be prohibited.

HARRY LINSNER.

WINE FOR THE FANCY, NOT FOR THE THOUGHT.

Chicago, April 22.—(Editor of the Tribune.)—Two noted visitors from England recently expressed exactly opposite views on prohibition. G. K. Chesterton said that America would go wet again and the other said the world would never go dry. C. W. Saleeby said that America would stay dry and that the rest of the world is certain to follow America's example.

What's the right? Chesterton or Saleeby? A comparison of the two men, I believe, will answer this question. Chesterton is a novelist. Saleeby is a scientist. Saleeby deals with facts, Chesterton with fiction. Saleeby is trained to discover the truth about the actual. Chesterton is trained to create the imaginary and fanciful. Saleeby as a physician and scientist has devoted his life to health im-

Pianos to suit all purses

Come to our salesrooms this week. Such offerings as we are now showing are most unusual.

A Most Comprehensive Display

In our display, evidence is presented of the advantage of coming here. Here are standards of accomplishment.

The name Steinway has become synonymous with quality. It is today and has been for generations past the highest type of piano. One is filled only with admiration by its tone and beauty of case design.

Price reductions ranging in amounts from $50 to $215 give added significance to Lyon & Healy pianos. Chief among them is the Apartment Grand Piano, dainty and richly voiced, and occupying but little more space than an upright piano.

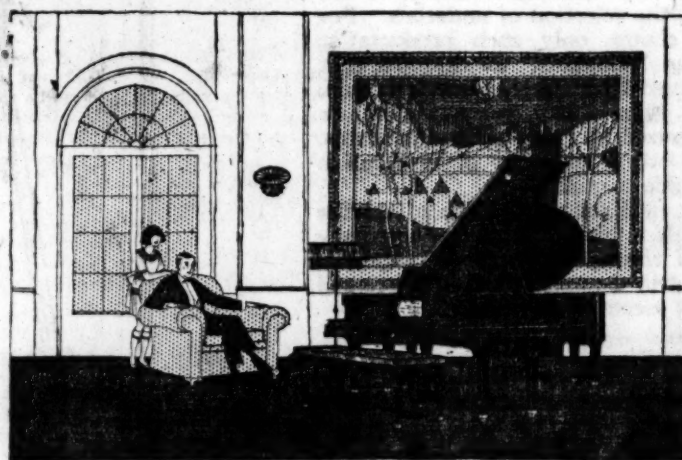

The group containing the Pianola and the Aeolian Player Piano is truly a delightful one. Reductions in prices make them doubly attractive for here are instruments which bring music to everyone.

Another feature in our display is popular priced models. These are well within the reach of the moderate sized purse.

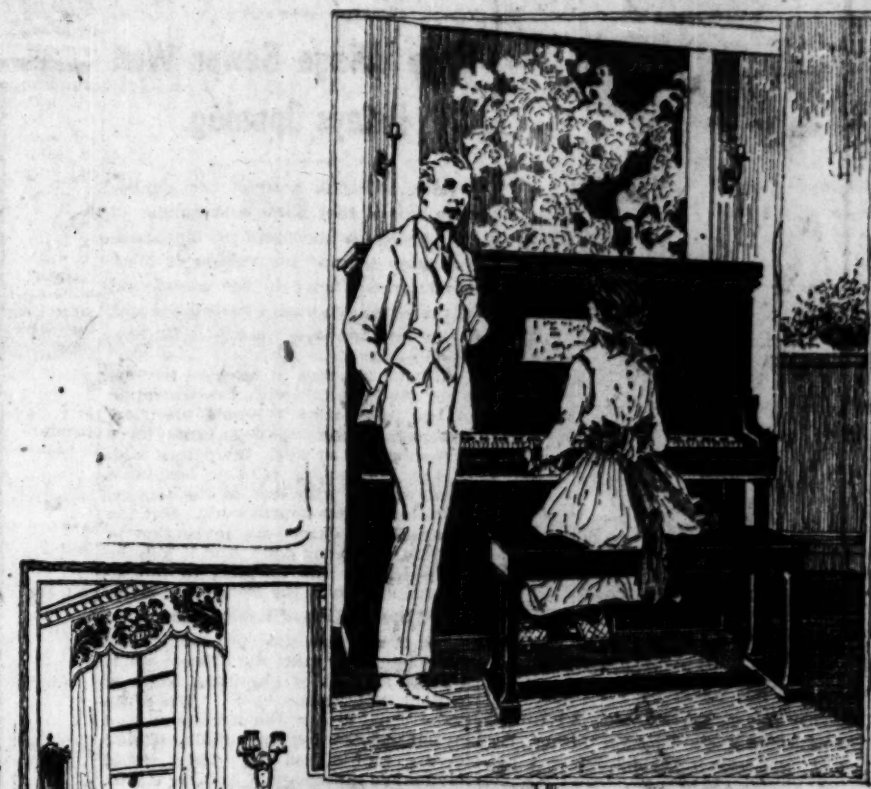

Terms

Any instrument selected will be delivered on a small down payment. The remainder may be paid on easy monthly terms.

Let Us Send a Set of Unique Paper Floor Patterns

Do you know just how much space a piano occupies? Where you can place it to best advantage? When you are considering buying one, these are points to be noted. But we have solved any such difficulty. Simply by spreading out our paper floor patterns, which bear facsimile black and white reproductions of the keyboards, you learn how much space a piano requires. They are of great assistance to you. Send for a set today.

Modernized Pianos

No one can afford to overlook this assemblage of remarkable values. The opportunities for thrifty buying are many. The instruments, while slightly used, are practically as good as new. We have repaired and replaced worn parts, and the case designs have been changed to modern styles. Assuredly from among them you will find the piano of your choice.

BRITISH TEXTILE TRADE EXPECTS BUSINESS BOOM

Forecast Revival at End of Coal Strike.

BY AMBROSE LAMBERT.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
MANCHESTER, April 25.—Lancashire county is optimistic as far as the textile trade is concerned. All the trade experts believe that when the miners return to work there will be a big boom in the cotton trade. This opinion was strongly maintained by Sir Edwin Stockton, president of the Manchester chamber of commerce.

"I believe increased demand for textiles is imminent," said Sir Edwin. "The coal crisis momentarily dominates the situation, otherwise an upward trend of values is clearly perceptible. Certain markets are showing definite signs of a shortage, demonstrating that the purchasers have held off so long that they cannot delay buying much longer. Buying is infectious. When business in one market picks up, others soon follow, with the result that there is a general scramble for goods."

Expects Mills to Hum.

"I am firmly convinced that when the miners start working there will be no 'short time' for any Lancashire mill. Even the pessimists of the last months are realizing that prospects for a rapid trade recovery are good."

"The world cannot get along without Lancashire goods for any length of time. For six months not 30 per cent of the Lancashire machinery has been running. This unquestionably has resulted in a shortage of cotton goods abroad and the Lancashire mills alone can make up this deficiency. Settle the coal strike and we shall get busy. Work is waiting for us."

Other experts are confident that trade will boom within two months after settlement of the coal dispute. Inquiries from foreign markets are numerous, but a majority of the purchasers insist on strike clause contracts which the manufacturers are refusing. It was pointed out that recently a number of orders came from China, India, and Egypt waiving this clause, thus indicating that those markets are depleted of goods.

Crisis Came in January.

When the slump was most acute in January all mills were on a short time basis, the busiest not working more than two or three days a week. The value of the cancellations which poured in totaled millions of pounds. The soundest houses were in precarious financial straits, but it is understood practically all weathered the storm.

Manchester does not hesitate to compliment American business integrity, it being shown that the Americans canceled only a trifle over 4 per cent of orders which amounted to $61,000,000. It was pointed out that these cancellations came from new traders.

A week prior to the coal strike there was a decided revival in the textile trade. A typical example of the situation is the present condition of affairs at Preston, where fifteen mills are closed and sixteen working on short time.

The engineering trade is suffering heavily, with the exception of the textile machinery manufacturers, many of whom are eighteen months behind on their orders.

Optimists insist that if the trade is given any sort of industrial peace it will right itself within a few months. The proposed reduction of wages is likely to prove a disturbing factor.

The number of persons out of work in Cheshire and Lancashire was increased by 12,657 last week. There has been no great distress among the mill operatives yet.

MAYWOOD HALTS WAR HOSPITAL, HINES ASSERTS

Says Village Sewer Work
Delays Opening.

Edward Hines, head of the lumber company of that name and builder of the Speedway hospital in Maywood, yesterday blamed the village of Maywood for the delay in the completion of the new government hospital, which is to accommodate nearly 1,000 disabled soldiers.

All that remains to be done to complete the hospital, with the exception of the installation of some electrical equipment upon which a large force of men is now at work, Mr. Hines said, is the connection of the hospital's sewer system with that of the village, a matter of four hours' work. But the village has obtained an injunction to prevent this being done, and it may be necessary for the hospital to put in its own system to the Desplaines river.

Denies Tale of Leaky Roof.

"It is not true that the roof of the main building leaks and that there is a large amount of plumbing work to be done," Mr. Hines said. "When the plans were drawn the architects and myself insisted that the building should have a roof of red tile. That would have been a permanent and an attractive roof, but the government architects insisted upon prepared roofing. That roofing has been put on, according to specifications, and it does not leak."

"With reference to the sewer system and the plumbing, this work has all been completed and the pipes have been extended to Roosevelt road, less than a foot from the Maywood system. Maywood's plan is sufficiently large to handle our sewage, but for some reason or other the village obtained an injunction against the government, prohibiting the connecting of the two sewers."

Ninety Men Install Lights.

He said 1700 electric light fixtures were being installed in the building by ninety men and the work would be completed within a short time.

Electrical Efficiency in Household Management

As it has done for industry and commerce, electricity is daily lending its mighty energy to the conservation of time and labor and the standardization of methods in the home.

The woman of the house is rapidly emulating her brother in the industrial field, by the adoption and utilization of electric power as a means of "getting things done." She is revolutionizing her household management in keeping with modern ideas; achieving a more truly homelike atmosphere and greater economies.

Keeping ever abreast with electrical development are the practical men of the craft; qualified architects, electrical engineers and contractors, technicians whose professional aid and counsel in matters of installation are essential to the success of your plans.

Of equal importance with intelligent advice is the need for proper care in the selection of materials. For complete satisfaction choose only such products as are worthy of the name "Habirshaw," for example, that established and maintained by Habirshaw insulated wire and cable. For more than thirty years, Habirshaw quality has been recognized by the electrical industry, and in the selection of other materials of installation provides an accurate guide to quality.

Habirshaw is always available; by reason of volume production and large sale it insures lowest price to the consumer. Distributed through the national organization of the Western Electric Company, it may be secured through them wherever electricity is used.

Any architect, electrical engineer or contractor will give you a copy of the "Home Electrical," a beautiful new booklet on the many uses of electricity in the home.

BY LEOLA

As telegrams pour part of the country organizations, and voice their enthusiasm for the memorial trees of them read: "An help any movement tree planting. We every citizen would generations who will and therefore barren land."

William C. Edens, Illinois Highway Commission, approves the assistance. He was talked with G. C. Ho of the Lincoln Highway enthusiastic about them.

Mr. Edens received from Robert M. City, Iowa, member committee of the plan saying:

"I am pleased to have the plan to plant trunk line and other in memory of the boy the world war. He been opposed to tree ing dirt roads, because the rays of the sun, these trees produce ways will have been be of any assistance, note the plan please."

Great Boom for the American people 4,000,000 trees to make ways roads of romance have found the task result so beautiful that ing will have just be 200,000 miles of main across the country, alone, and if those trees to each thirty would, in a few years, would be planted each minute result would be forrestation of America.

A hundred and more Duke of Wellington elm trees to be planted to the Alhambra. Too a show place, one of full in Spain. American erations, as they drive American avenues, bearing a name honor our country."

MEMORIAL TREE IDEA LAUDED AS FORESTRY BOON

Nation Can Honor Soldiers and Save Crops.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

As telegrams pour in from every part of the country from newspapers, organizations, and individuals, who voice their enthusiasm for the Tribune's memorial trees for soldiers, many of them read: "And we are glad to help any movement that will result in tree planting. We need them and if every citizen would consider it a duty, it would mean much to the coming generations who will be without trees, and therefore barren of agricultural land."

William G. Edens, president of the Illinois Highway Improvement association, approves the plan and offers assistance. He writes: "I have just talked with G. C. Hoag, field secretary of the Lincoln highway, and he is enthusiastic about the proposition."

Mr. Edens received a communication from Robert M. Carson of Iowa, member of the executive committee of the good roads board, saying: "I am pleased to learn of the Tribune's plan to plant trees along the trunk line and other main highways in memory of the boys who enlisted in the world war. While I have always been opposed to trees and hedges lining dirt roads, because they keep out the rays of the sun, I feel by the time these trees produce shade these highways will have been paved. If I can be of any assistance in helping to promote the plan please call upon me."

It seems the general belief that when the American people have planted their 4,000,000 trees to make our great highways roads of remembrance, they will have found the task so easy and the result so beautiful that their tree planting will have just begun. There are 300,000 miles of main traveled roads across the country, 50,000 in Illinois alone, and if these were lined with trees to each thirty feet, the result would, in a few years, suggest completion of the work, and more trees would be planted each year. The ultimate result would be the entire reforestation of America.

A hundred and more years ago the Duke of Wellington sent to Spain 500 elm trees to be planted from Granada to the Alhambra. Today the avenue is a show place, one of the most beautiful in Spain. Americans of future generations, as they drive along the great American avenues, will see each tree bearing a name honored by service to our country.

Indiana Indorsements.
"The significance of the tree planting will sink deep into the nation's consciousness," says the Richmond (Indiana) Palladium, "and will strengthen the sense of our nationhood and our common citizenship. Above all, it will write across the face of the continent, in symbols of living beauty, the real meaning of the American republic—which is that our institutions, our strength, our prosperity, and our progress, rest upon the individual citizen."

John T. Thompson, professor of botany at Richmond, says: "I have driven for fifteen miles along highways without finding a tree under which I could spread my lunch." He suggests that states plant native trees, and asks that Indiana plant Red oak and native black walnut.

W. A. Guthrie, chairman of the conservation committee from Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "Any for any movement that will grow more trees. Monument to honor soldiers who fought, a good one and I will help carry out the Tribune's thought."

Club Woman Lauds Plan.

Mrs. William Welsh of Des Plaines, Ill., state chairman of conservation, Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, says the Tribune's movement "crystallizes the plans launched by the club women, who planted a group of memorial trees to the Illinois soldier dead, at the intersection of the Lincoln and Dixie highways, three years ago."

"The club women will convert their work into the soldier memorial and co-operate in every way with those who are going to help carry the Tribune's plan to success," she adds. "The clubs urge all Illinois to carry on the Lincoln Highway memorial."

Mrs. Welsh represents club women of the seventh congressional district, which planted the first group of trees at Chicago Heights. Each of Illinois' twenty-five congressional districts is represented in the work.

AMERICAN WIFE OF BRITON BUYS DUPONT ESTATE

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—The actual purchaser of the $1,800,000 estate of the late Alicia Dupont at Roslyn, L. I., is Mrs. Frederick Guest, wife of the Rt. Hon. Capt. Frederick Guest, minister of the air service in Great Britain. It was bought for her at auction on Saturday by her brother, Mr. Howard C. Phipps, for $470,000. Mrs. Guest, who was Miss Amy Phipps, daughter of Henry Phipps of New York, sailed for England two weeks ago and is expected to return about the end of May. Mrs. Phipps said today that her daughter's plans were indefinite, but that she would probably occupy the house occasionally during visits to this country.

The place is one of the most beautiful on Long Island. It adjoins Harbor Hill, the home of Clarence Mackay.

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

One Reason for Our Success in Interior Decorating

A SHORT time ago we were called upon to redecorate a home and found, still intact, the hangings and the paint work that we had done thirty years before. "They wouldn't need to be touched," said the owner, "except that the styles are so greatly different."

This is no uncommon incident with us. And the "reason why" is interesting to prospective clients.

Our work is thorough. Every thread, every drop of paint, every tack is placed with care. The work is done to endure.

Nothing less would carry out the Marshall Field & Company idea "to do some things better than they have ever been done before."

SHELLS WRECK FLAGSHIP; NOT ONE LIFE LOST

Admiral Beatty Cheered for Gallant Work.

In yesterday's installment on the battle of Dogger bank, Lieut. Young gave another instance of how a mistake in the reading signals on the part of the British aided the Germans. Instead of "keeping close to the enemy" they followed and kept firing at the disabled ship. The Lion is out of the fight and in an almost sinking condition.

BY LIEUT. FILSON YOUNG.
(Copyright, 1921, in U. S. by The Chicago Tribune.)

Although the weapons and methods by which warfare is made are constantly changing, the basic principles of war do not change, and it was the misfortune of some of our commanders that they had a less firm grasp of these basic principles than of the circumstances which might modify the application of them. It was precisely in this respect that Admiral Beatty was unique. He never lost sight of the main principles of warfare, nor of the first and supreme importance of annihilating his adversary, even if in so doing he were to incur an equal amount of damage to his own force.

His own force being superior to that of his enemy, he could afford to do so. He knew that where the enemy could go he could go. But there was no blindness on his part as to the danger of mines and submarines, and in his conduct of the chase he had throughout, with the greatest skill, so maneuvered as to reduce the risk from torpedo attack, and from the mines laid by the fleeing enemy, to a practically negligible quantity.

Admiral Beatty's Bravery.
Unfortunately the combination of coolness and restraint with his natural daring was not common. There were other leaders who had daring as great as his, and others who had caution equal to his; but there were none, among those who had the opportunity of proving their qualities, that had both in anything like the degree he had.

What might have been foolhardy in others was perfectly safe with him, because he knew and calculated all the risks and either took them or refused them. There is something tragic in the thought that here, as on a later and even greater occasion, we were robbed of the fruits of this steel bright, steel hard genius for battle. In each case everything was done, and rightly done, to lead up to the climax of annihilation—and there was no climax. On Jan. 24 there was no reason whatever why the chase should not have been prolonged for at least another hour, or for an hour and a half, in which case the destruction of the enemy ships, which were beginning to suffer severely, would probably have been completed. But he was not there; and the diagram on the track chart, following that of his long and skillful pursuit, indicates only too eloquently the result of loss of a leader at a vital moment, and of his replacement by a substitute not trained in his clear ways, and preoccupied by the risks rather than by the favorable possibilities of the situation.

Condition of the Lion.
We may now return to the Lion, which had turned out of the line at 11 o'clock in a disabled and, as we thought, quite sinking condition. The list to port was increasing steadily, and as we came down from the foretop we left our oilskins and other gear there, in order to be more free in the water, as it seemed possible that the end might come at any moment.

The decks presented an extraordinary spectacle, battered and littered with fragments of smashed and twisted steel, with here and there yawning gashes where heavy shell had burst, or fragments penetrated. The men came up from below and swarmed over them, picking up souvenirs in the shape of splinters and fragments of shell.

A signal was made to the destroyers present to close round the ship, and one of them, the Attack, was, after about a quarter of an hour, maneuvered alongside so that the admiral might follow the other ships and resume his command.

The destroyers, who had come up from below, pressed around him, cheering, and in the enthusiasm of the moment one of them clapped him on the back as he stepped on to the destroyer's fo'c'sle and shouted: "Well done, David!"

Repairing Lion's Damage.

Meanwhile, Commander Fountaine had been working hard in the damaged part of the ship, shoring up bulkheads, getting out collision mats, and doing what he could to see that the damage inflicted did not go any farther. It was found that the water was not increasing, although the feed supply of fresh water to the boilers was so interfered with that steaming was impossible with the port engine, and presently also with the starboard. These investigations and the means employed to preserve the ship from further damage took a good while and, meantime, we were able to take stock of the damage below decks. No one had been killed and only about fourteen were wounded; almost all by a shell which had burst in the confined space of "A" turret lobby and had, amongst other things, wrecked all the cabins there and reduced their contents to unrecognizable litter.

Farther aft the admiral's quarters had received considerable damage, particularly his stateroom, the staterooms of which were riddled with splinter holes. My greatcoat, which I had left behind me on a chair when I came down to breakfast, was torn into rags and ribbons and looked as though a pack of hounds had been worrying it.

Wound Below Water Line.
All this damage, however, was superficial. The serious wound was below the water line. The engineer officers told me that when the blow was received the whole side of the port engine room, on which were fixed most of the gauges and dials and instruments, had seemed to come bodily at them across the ship, and it is a wonder that no one was killed from the flying instruments and pieces of heavy metal which were sent hurtling across the engine room with the blow.

The dynamo being out of action, the ship was in darkness except for the feeble light of candles and lanterns. The continuous firing of our own guns had shaken from its place everything that was not firmly secured. In my own cabin I found the contents of a chest of drawers sliding about the deck in six inches of water. Our faces were blackened with cordite smoke, our nerves jangling with the relaxation of the tension, our ears were bleeding, but our hearts rejoicing, as we believed that the others who had gone on would complete the good work of the day. It was not until Admiral Beatty came back at about 3 o'clock that we heard of the destruction of the Blücher and of the breaking off of the fight, although even then it was thought doubtful whether the three German battle cruisers would manage to reach their harbor safely. Fortunately we did not know that one of them, the Moltke, was practically untouched, or our enthusiasm over the great events of the day might have been less unclouded than it was.

(Next installment tomorrow.)

SPADE FRY

Sixty or seventy years ago in Japan beefsteak was called sukivaki, or "spade fry."

Because those who ate it had to fry it in secret on a spade over some coals,

Such was the influence of Buddhism, which discouraged the eating of meat.

Today the Japanese are as enthusiastic as the patrons of CHILDS in their praise of roast beef.

Slices of beef, tender and juicy, with fluffy mashed potatoes.

FIGHT SITE NEAR FERRY AND TUBE IN JERSEY CITY

COFFROTH TO REFEREE?

NEW YORK, April 25.—Bill Lyons, close friend of Dempsey, is authority for the statement that Jim Coffroth of California will be agreed upon as referee for the Dempsey-Carpenter fight.

New York, April 25.—With definite selection today of "Boyle's thirty acres," adjoining Montross park in Jersey City, as the site of the arena for the Dempsey-Carpenter heavyweight championship bout July 2, training plans of the contestants to fight there were being laid accordingly.

Location of Dempsey's camp has not been finally selected, but it is generally understood that the champion will select Atlantic City, while the Frenchman will train on Long Island, probably at Manhasset. According to present indications, Carpenter's training will be conducted along much more secret lines than Dempsey's.

Georges Has Own System.

Those in close touch with Carpenter's representatives state that his manager, Francois Descamps, plans to have the European champion follow much the same line of training adopted when in England preparing for his bouts with Beckett and Wells.

Little of Carpenter's training will be done in public—possibly only some light exercises, road work, and shadow boxing. Daily sparring with his partners may also be staged for the newspaper reporters assigned to cover Carpenter's training, but the serious preparation, in which French boxing weight will cut loose, probably will be conducted behind closed doors.

You Can See Jack—If You Pay.

So far as is known Dempsey will not follow any such training campaign. Wherever his camp is located, the public will be admitted to witness the training at a nominal charge, as has always been his custom.

The site of the arena in Jersey City is within a few minutes' walk of various ferries and the Intercity underground tube service. Three railroads, serving the southwest, pass within a few blocks of the site, while several broad boulevards, suitable for heavy automobile travel and parking, are close to the plot.

Start Work at Once.

The work for leveling the plot for the erection of the arena is to be begun at once. Rickard intends to have the mammoth stadium finished in time to permit staging one or more bouts of importance before the heavyweight contest.

One of the principal considerations which caused Rickard to choose the site was its proximity to large railroad yards. Virtually every railroad running into Jersey City has informed him that there is a steady and growing demand for special trains from points in the West and south. It is planned to park special trains in all these yards, which will obviate the necessity of the occupants moving to hotels the night before or after the bout.

Parties Take Blocks of Seats.

Reservations for as far south as New Orleans and as far west as Los Angeles already have been booked. The promoters of the trips engaging car space and flight seats in blocks in order that the parties, once formed, may travel and sit together.

Several of these parties have planned to spend Sunday and Monday, July 2 and 3, in sightseeing in and around New York after the contest. Many of those who intend to make the trip will use their vacation period for that purpose.

FIGHT SPECIAL TO BE "HOTEL"

Fight fans who go from here to see the Dempsey-Carpenter bout July 2 will not have to hunt hotel room in Jersey City or New York. Due to the fact that the fight is being held at the new arena, it is arranged for a special train to take the battle scene, announced yesterday. It has made arrangements with the New York Central railroad to park the Pullmans in the yards within a few minutes' walk of the big stadium. Rickard is to build on "Boyle's thirty acres."

There will be some who may want to avail themselves of hotel accommodations in New York. Krone said yesterday, "but for those who want to be on the ground and hurry back, it has arranged to have the coaches placed almost in the shadow of Rickard stadium. For a week-end trip I think the ride to the greatest fight in the history of the country cannot be beaten."

M. Gibbons and Wiggins to Box at Grand Rapids

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 25.—Matchmaker Mortimer of the Olympia A. C. announces the matching of Mike Gibbons of St. Paul and Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis for ten rounds here on Wednesday May 4. Wiggins and Gibbons recently battled at Minneapolis and Gibbons was credited with leading by a wide margin.

Chaney Sees Sieger as More Knockout Material

New York, April 25.—(Special.)—Andy Chaney of Baltimore, who meets Sammy Siegel at Madison Square Garden next Monday night for twelve rounds, is confident he will "take" the east side boxer. Chaney says he will go after Johnny Kilbane if he is successful.

Welsh Gets Comeback Try at Leonard, N. Y. Report

New York, April 25.—Benny Leonard, present lightweight champion, and Freddie Welsh, former titleholder, will meet for the crown in Tex Rickard's Jersey City arena on July 1, according to Bill Lyons, close friend of Welsh.

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives are:

At Boston—Soldier Bartfield and Tommy Robson, no contest [4]; Paul Doyle knocked out K. O. Lanchillo [3]; Al Shubert beat Earl Reid [10].

At Pittsburgh—Johnny Ray beat Ray Broy [10].

At Cincinnati—Billy Ryan beat Phil Bloom [10]; Dick Nasser beat Lefty Frank [11]; Tip Raux beat Frankie Russell [2].

At Columbus—Frankie Callahan beat Gene Belmont, foul [1].

At Baltimore—Frankie Rice stopped Joe Mendell [8].

At St. Louis—Johnny Nichols knocked out Eddie Gilmore [2].

At Philadelphia—Kid Williams beat Joe Burman [10]; Harry Kid Brown beat John Maloney [8]; Joe Tippit beat Tim Droney [8]; Patsy Wallace beat Chalky Wimler [8].

At Cleveland—Johnny Carr beat Johnny Shum [10].

At New York—Tommy Burns beat Chet Morgan [6].

At Louisville—Louis De Arco beat Young Denny [6].

At Chicago—Ritchie Colbert and Eddie O'Brien fought draw [6].

BY RAY PEARSON.

If a bit of Italian "claret," also a bit of "wop" conversation, is spilled in the Auditorium arena this evening, it will mean that Johnny Dundee, New Yorker, is trying to sever the winning streak of one Rocky Kansas of Buffalo.

Frank Mulkeen, the Cream City promoter, figuring that it takes an Italian to lick an Italian, has pounced on Dundee as the boy to upset the sturdy fellow from Buffalo; hence the "feud" tonight.

Kansas Goes in as Favorite.

Kansas, showing recently makes him a natural favorite over Dundee, who hasn't been doing quite so well in recent bouts.

The style of these two boys would indicate a battle of the ripping sort, for Dundee is tearing in and out, lunging, whalloping, Dundee, particularly when at his best, has speed and sting enough for any of them.

Keen Interest Here.

Interest of local fans is indicated by the heavy sale of ducks, and the great following will have their choice of three different ways of transportation to Milwaukee.

Special trains will be run over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul at 8:45, city time; the Northwestern at 8:45, city time; and the North Shore Electric at 8:15.

State Casting Meet in

Garfield Park July 2, 3, 4. The Illinois state fly casting tournament will be held at Garfield park under the auspices of the Chicago Fly Casting club on July 2, 3, 4. The event will be open to all casters and will rival the national tournament, which will be held at Portland, Ore. Sept. 3, 4, 5. Several casters of note have posted their entries, including C. J. McCarthy, R. D. Heetfield, P. N. Peet, William Stanley, W. C. Luebert, and Fred Kleinfeldt, who are world record holders in the casting sport.

Expect Entry of 500 Pin

Teams in Commercial Meet. With a fairly heavy field already entered and more coming in, the Association of Commerce's championship industrial tournament bids fair to have over 500 bowling teams in the final lineup for the championship. Entries close at midnight tomorrow.

ROLLER SKATERS ELECT.

The Illinois Roller Skating association held a meeting last night at the Opal A. C. and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, R. J. Little, Opal A. C.; first vice president, Fred Swanson, Calerton A. C.; second vice president, Everett Clayton, Alverno A. C.; third vice president, Charles C. McCormick, Madison Gardens; secretary and treasurer, George W. Keenell, Riverview Boosters' club.

SHOTS ON THE LINKS OF JOE DAVIS

THE steel shafted club devised by Joe Davis, the Englishman, is back again. The original shaft was of skeleton construction, differing from the shafts which were steel tubes. It was claimed that the wind passing through the shaft made a whistling noise, which bothered the players. To eliminate this the four sides of the shaft have been closed with a composition, so that while the air no longer can pass through, the elasticity of the shaft, peculiar to its skeleton construction, is preserved.

Secretary J. P. Humphreys of the Garfield Golf club has issued the season's schedule, the most important events being the Cook county open championship, starting July 20, and the Cook county amateur invitation event, starting Aug. 24, and lasting three days. The twelfth annual battle for the club championship is billed to begin July 16. Play for the McNichols cup, which is a perpetual trophy, will open Sept. 17. The first cup event is for the Capper & Capper trophy, starting April 30.

Although the Westmoreland Country club probably has had more players out this spring than any of the local courses the formal opening is announced for May 7. On that day there will be no guest fees. The Skokie club opened all its departments last week.

RACING OF TRYSTER BIG BOOST TO HOPES FOR DERBY VICTORY

Louisville, Ky., April 25.—(Special.)—Many Kentucky Derby hopes have been crushed the last few days when the acid test was applied to several eligibles for the big race. The performances of two or three, however, brought joy to their followers.

This was particularly true of Tryster. The race run by Tryster at Havre De Grace in the Susquehanna, an overnight handicap at one mile, was a sterling effort, although it marked the first defeat of the son of Peter Pan during his entire racing career.

Superior Race by Tryster.

On "dope" Tryster's race was superior, he having been defeated only three parts of a length by Paul Jones, last year's derby winner, in 141 2-5, over a sloppy course, with each colt carrying 112 pounds. According to the scale of weights for March and April, Tryster, a 3 year old, was giving Paul Jones, a 4 year old, nineteen pounds. Then, too, the soft going was just made to order for Paul Jones. Over a similar course at Churchill Downs last May, Paul Jones broke in front of his derby field and never relinquished his advantage the entire route.

Prudery, most likely, will start in the opening dash at Lexington Saturday.

Derby couple with Tryster. That she has been doing nicely in her training this spring is no stable secret.

Coupled Pair Favorite.

With Tryster and Prudery running coupled in the Derby, it looks now as if they will retain the post of favoritism until the big event has been decided.

Bon Homme, from his race in the opening dash at Lexington Saturday, does not seem to be quite of Derby caliber. Coyne did the derby route yesterday around 2:04.

Record Race by Leonardo II.

Lexington, Ky., April 25.—Leonardo II, E. F. Simms' unbeaten son of Sweep and Ethel Pace, a Kentucky Derby candidate, today ran the fastest mile and one-sixteenth ever seen on a Kentucky track. The time was 1:42 4-5, a fraction of a second slower than the world's record of 1:42 3-4 set by Celeste in 1914 at Syracuse. The race was the annual first as a 3 year old. The first quarter was run in 23 2-5 seconds; the half in 45 seconds, and the three-quarters in 1:10 4-5. The mile was run in 1:34 4-5, equaling Man o' War's American record. The former track record for the mile and one-sixteenth distance, 1:44 2-5, was set by Bayberry Candle, May 1, 1916.

FARM and GARDEN

CLOVER IN DANGER.

LOVER is being dealt another heavy blow. Young clover was nipped to the ground in some sections of the clover belt by the recent frozes and now insects are invading the fields.

Down in some parts of Iowa and in some parts of Missouri and Illinois red clover fields are reported to be seriously injured by leaf-eating caterpillars. In heavily infested areas some of the fields look as if they had been swept by an old-fashioned prairie fire. Fields are killed to the extent of 75 per cent in some cases, according to F. A. Fenton, entomologist of the Iowa State college.

The larvae stage of the clover leaf weevil is causing some trouble. The principal damage is being done by another leaf-feeding caterpillar, dull brown in color with a series of diamond shaped markings down the back. It is side streaked with an indistinct stripe.

When the clover is practically all killed it is recommended that the farmer burn over the field, plow the ground and plant corn or some other crop. This not only avoids having an idle field but kills most of the worm caterpillars, and prevents new broods from infesting the clover later.

Poison bran mash scattered over the infested fields is being used successfully. The poisoned bait is effective and worth while in killing the larvae or worms if used when they first begin feeding on the plants. This bait will not control the weevil. The weevil is usually killed by a fungus disease, its natural enemy.

Live stock must be kept out of infested clover fields.

HOLD BACK HAND TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Members of the South Side Tennis club are competing in a new kind of tennis tournament—a back hand meet—in which semi-finals and finals will be played Saturday and Sunday. The event, which is sponsored by H. A. Bosant, donor of prizes, is intended to develop players at their back hand stroke, the most common weakness in the game. Fifty-two original entrants composed the field, among whom Ralph Burdick, Alex. Squair, Al Green, Art Hubbell, and Harry Vorles are still in the running.

U. of California Oarsmen to Row at Poughkeepsie

New York, April 25.—The intercollegiate rowing association today received a request that quarters for thirteen men and equipment be obtained at Poughkeepsie for the University of California rowing squad, which will compete in the intercollegiate championships on the Hudson June 22.

FRENCH RACERS TO GIVE YANKEES TUSSLE AT PENN

Philadelphia, Pa., April 25.—French athletes, representing the University of Paris, here for Pennsylvania's relay carnival next Friday and Saturday, are a formidable lot.

Ferry, French quarter mile champion; Seurin, the 220 yard champion; Delvert, the holder of the 400 meter world's record; Gouilleux, and Rigot are the men who have crossed the Atlantic to try conclusions with their American college rivals.

They will compete in the sprint relay championship, April 29, and in the one mile relay championship the following day. In addition, Seurin will run in the 100 yard dash.

Yankees Face Battle.

The French runners will give the American teams entered in one mile and sprint relay hard battles, as their records indicate that they should make both of these events in time approaching the present figures.

The preparations for the carnival next Saturday are nearing completion. The largest number of college teams that have ever been gathered will be found at the carnival. Nearly 150 college relay teams will compete, with almost 350 scholastic quartets. Though the carnival extends over two days, it will take the hardest kind of hustling on the big program during those two afternoons.

New Records Expected.

Records are expected to go by the board in several events, while in practically all of the college relay races and the special events the existing figures will be approached.

"Bo" McMillan to Return to Centre College Team

Alvin N. ("Bo") McMillan, captain and quarter back of last year's football eleven of Centre college, Danville, Ky., will return to Centre college next season and will not accept professional football offers which have been tendered him. "Bo" made the announcement last night in the Hotel La Salle, where he was the guest of the Centre College Alumni association.

Walker Sets World Record in 25 Mile Motorcycle Race

Los Angeles, Cal., April 25.—Otto Walker established what was said to be a new world's record on the speed way yesterday when he won a twenty-five mile motorcycle race in 14:11.8 seconds, an average speed of 104.2 miles an hour. The previous record of 14:45.8 for the distance was established by Albert Burns at Fresno, Cal.

ILLINOIS WARDENS ACTIVE.

THE Illinois Division of Game and Fish has issued a booklet containing a record of prosecutions and convictions for the year 1920. It consists of ninety-two closely printed pages, giving the names of offenders, the principal offenses, the amount of fine paid. The list of convictions gives names of offenders and quantity of fish and game seized.

Apparently a great number of hunters in this state do not believe in hunting licenses. The warden gathered in 243 such; in nearly every instance they were fined $15. It has always been a mystery to us, the warden and not a politician? Failure to buy a hunting license is a misdemeanor due to ignorance, because a resident hunting license is an old institution everywhere. On the other hand, the trapping license is comparatively new in this state, but there were only fifty-five prosecutions.

There were seventy-two prosecutions for shooting of non-game birds, which is a large number, considering it is a difficult law to enforce. Most of foreign birth—mostly Italians—were the principal offenders. The fact that after shooting such birds they carry them through lawless means rather than through lawlessness.

The law most frequently violated by anglers is the one that prohibits fishing within 100 feet of a dam. The anglers were prosecuted for breaking this law, and in most cases were fined $25.

ALEXA STIRLING FINISHES NINTH IN GOLF CLASSIC

BROOKWOOD, England, April 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mrs. Temple Dobell, former British women's champion, won the stretch prize in the golf match for women on the West Hill course today with a score of 67 for the eighteen holes.

Miss Alexa Stirling, American winner of an championship, was tied for ninth place. She made the eighteen holes in 80. For the course is 86. For the first round she turned in a card of 44.

Guilford to Be Member of Team in British Golf

Boston, Mass., April 25.—John P. Guilford of the Woodland Golf club, known as the "algebra gun" among amateur golfers because of his long putting ability, announced today that he would play in the British amateur golf championship tournament, which is a former state open and amateur championship, and held the New Hampshire amateur title for several years.

BACK TO NORMALCY

The Business of the World has been racked by war; the eye of faith has been dimmed; out of the depths of destruction with its attendant waste and extravagance, we are now emerging into normalcy.

Business Revival

We have hope in our hearts and faith in those sustaining ideals which have ever made for peace and fair prosperity.

Re-adjustment, re-construction, re-generation; these three read business revival.

As a sound basis for Reconstruction a Business Formula is offered. It is contained in the Rice Leaders of the World Association's Qualifications for Membership:

- HONOR: A recognized reputation for fair and honorable business dealings.
- QUALITY: An honest product, of quality truthfully represented.
- STRENGTH: A responsible and substantial financial standing.
- SERVICE: A recognized reputation for conducting business in prompt and efficient manner.

Manufacturers are accepted into membership because their known methods of conducting business have been found to harmonize with the above Standards. Through these methods, proved in many years of practice, they are worthy your confidence. They are "fine people to deal with"—their principles stand back of their products. Listed below, they represent in precept and practice those Standards which mean integrity of purpose and reliability of product.

Economy of Co-operation

Collective use of the Association's Character Emblem by a group of member manufacturers meets one of the greatest needs of Business Reconstruction—Economy. Through Co-operation, the Emblem expresses the policy of all. Through the above Emblem, knowing one you know all. Use of the Emblem by one member benefits all. Use by all members benefits you, enabling you to identify member manufacturers whose products completely satisfy. So the interwoven interests of all—manufacturer, merchant and you, the user or consumer, are expressed in one embracing symbol.

Service Ideal

Wherever seen, the Association's Emblem identifies member manufacturers, and merchandise, devoted to your Service. Your purchase of their products is but the beginning of their responsibility to you. Therefore, regard the Emblem as a token of Service and Good Faith; a silent message from many manufacturers active in different fields but united in their practice of Right Business Principles.

A Two-fold Object

The object of this Association, while properly benefiting members individually, is also to emphasize the need of greater recognition of Right Business Principles. The Qualifications for Membership in this Association, as typified in the Emblem, define the methods of its members; but these principles are not the exclusive privilege of anyone. They pertain to all. They should be practiced by all.

You Can Help

Insist upon the "Golden Rule" in dealing with your fellow-man. Stand firm for integrity in business. Purchase products made by concerns of character and—in buying—let this Emblem guide you.

In that way you will do your part in bringing business back to normalcy.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY WILL SIFT BUILDING CRAFT

20 Indictments Expected in Short Order.

Details of procedure for the special grand jury to be called to act on the evidence uncovered by the joint legislative committee investigating building frauds were arranged yesterday in an executive conference between Senator John Daley and Assistant State Attorney George Gorman. State Attorney Crowe will ask Chief Justice McDonald of the Criminal court to call the jury at once.

"We are all set to go now," said Senator Daley. "If the special grand jury acts as we think it will there will be twenty-one men under indictment in a short time. The time is past for intimidation to stop our progress. No one need be in fear of being the first witness to tell us the truth. We have enough evidence to go right ahead with prosecutions."

Graft in Many Forms.

"Graft has as many aliases here as there are unions, gangs, and combines in Chicago," declared W. L. Pierce, representative from Belvidere, as he said details of extortion in the building trades in Chicago ranging from petty sums, such as $12.50, to $7,000. The $12.50 transaction was in connection with a home being built by a man of moderate means. The union officials, the legislators were told, demanded $25 to keep a strike from being called. The demand was rejected and a strike of three weeks ensued. At the end of the strike the business agent $12.50 and the strike was called off. The workmen on the building lost $700 in wages while they lay idle.

Witness Yesterday, a Contractor.

Right of having paid $7,000 to a "walking delegate" of a union to avert a strike on a building erected last year. It was paid in installments.

"The first installment was paid in July, 1920," said Representative Pierce. "It was $3,000."

That amount, I may add, interposed Chairman Daley, "is their fair figure. The graft, if it is big, usually starts with $3,000."

The witness said he was given a receipt for the money, and it read "for advertising," resumed Mr. Pierce.

"Ads" in Union Books Costly.

"Others testified to paying out large sums for 'ads' in year books published by the unions. Some of the money 'dues' for union picnics the unions go to pay for food and drinks consumed by labor officials. One man testified he had been paid $50 to union leaders to buy 'firewater' consumed at the picnics by the union leaders."

Witnesses also told how four riveters employed in the construction of the Webster tower were reprimanded by their union because they put in more than 250 rivets during one day, and were told to put in no more than 250 or they would be fined. It was also brought out that as the result of this slowing up of work the contractor was forced to employ the men overtime and on Sundays.

PLAN TO AMEND RENT BILL

Amendment to the rent commission bill to exempt all buildings constructed after the passage of the act from jurisdiction of the rent commission will be proposed today at Springfield by Senator Harold C. Kessinger, father of the bill.

This bill will knock opponents of the bill completely," said Senator Kessinger. "With future construction exempted from the jurisdiction of the commission, people who wish to build can do so and the commission cannot regulate their rents."

Two Big Meetings Held.

More than twenty-five delegates were appointed to represent tenants at Springfield at meetings held last night in the Swift school, Winthrop and Thorndale avenues, and the Lemoyne school, 851 Waveland avenue. Legislators were special guests at the meetings.

Senator Kessinger and Representatives O'Grady, Pierce, and Lyons were the principal speakers at the Swift school meeting, which was held under the auspices of the Edgewater branch of the Chicago Tenants' Protective League.

Twenty thousand tenants have "dropped" against moving on May 1, according to an announcement made by J. R. Patterson, president of the league.

Sues to Enjoin Landlord.

Charging that his landlord had removed the back door of his apartment as a step to dispossessing him, Howard F. Bishop, 2626 Lakewood avenue, filed suit for an injunction against Emil Welky, asking that he be allowed to keep the apartment for another year.

BILLS ARE SPEEDED

Springfield, Ill., April 25.—[Special.]—Republican house leaders tonight determined to put through the emergency rent bill as rapidly as they can be brought to a roll call. It is understood that the attorney general, in an opinion to be given to Gov. Small tomorrow morning, will hold that the bill is so drawn as to meet any question of constitutionality.

Senator Kessinger says that the objection to the rent commission bill have been eliminated by the amendments that eliminate cities of 25,000 or less.

One Hundred Northwestern University Co-Eds Will Act as Life Guards This Summer.

One hundred pretty co-eds have a hard summer before them in Evanston. They will be detailed to the beaches as life guards, according to Coach Tom Robinson of Northwestern university. It is anticipated that there will be many near drownings among the mere men.

The elimination contests for the life guards will begin next Monday. Several hundred have already applied for the job, but Coach Robinson, assisted by Jessie Wall, vice president of the Northwestern university life saving corps, and Dorothy Rioch, secretary and treasurer of the organization, will select the successful five score.

Fifty co-eds have signed a pledge to open the outdoor swimming season Friday afternoon. In previous seasons men have always opened the season. But yesterday Misses Evelyn Rose and Naomi Leitz "buttonholed" their sister students on the campus and gained the necessary recruits. Their agreement reads that if necessary the girls will break ice to get into the lake.

BUILDERS MEET; BACK COMMITTEE ON LOCKOUT FIAT

Members of the Building Construction Employers' association avowed yesterday that they will stand pat on the ultimatum to stop all building activities in Chicago Monday unless the union men accept a 20 per cent wage cut for skilled men and a 30 per cent reduction for common labor.

At a meeting in Hotel Sherman, 350 builders unanimously upheld the action of the executive committee of the association in announcing a lockout May 1, when some of the present trade agreements expire. It is estimated that hammermen and carpenters will be down on approximately $10,000,000 worth of work now going on, the largest single project being the new federal reserve bank.

Tentative overtures were made during the day by some labor chiefs for a reopening of negotiations on the basis of arbitrating the proposed wage cuts. This completely, said Senator Kessinger, "knocks out the union men."

"With future construction exempted from the jurisdiction of the commission, people who wish to build can do so and the commission cannot regulate their rents."

MRS. MARSHALL WINS A DIVORCE FROM EXPLORER

Says He Deserted Family for Arctic Research.

Alfred Marshall, retired president of the Marshall & Huiehart Machinery company, claims he is the first white man to cross Labrador from south to north. This achievement, however, impressed his wife not nearly so much, so she alleged in court, as the fact that during the three years Mr. Marshall was touring the frigid steppes he failed to send home even a souvenir postal card.

So yesterday Mrs. Marshall, a former society matron of Evanston, was granted a divorce by Judge Theodore Brentano in Superior court. Her husband did not contest the suit, and the alimony, $7,500, was settled by agreement.

He Hasn't Warm'd Up.

"Since his return from the icy region has he warmed up?" inquired the judge.

"No, your honor," smiled Mrs. Marshall.

It was not until the wandering explorer came home three weeks ago that he learned of the divorce petition. His wife was living at the Congress hotel. His two children, Alfred and George, were attending school in the east. Mr. Marshall moved into the Chicago Athletic association, where he is now staying.

"Six Eskimo guides and myself made up the exploring party," Mr. Marshall said last night. "I am not prepared to announce the results of my research work."

While Objected to Trip.

Regarding the matrimonial developments in his absence he was willing to make some small contribution.

"My wife did not agree to my going," was the explanation. "That is why she has divorced me."

MINISTERS BEGIN FIGHT ON BOXING AND RACING BILLS

The Rev. W. S. Fleming, who has achieved much publicity in the past by his opposition to boxing and racing legislation, yesterday launched a new campaign with the object of killing the bills controlling the two sports now pending in the state legislature.

A series of resolutions presented to the Methodist ministers' association, the Rev. Mr. Fleming declares the boxing bill to be similar to the one vetoed by Gov. Lowden two years ago and the racing bill to be "equally obnoxious." The ministers adopted the resolutions.

The proposed boxing law, the resolution declares, is "a worse bill than the Fawcett law tried for six years in New York and repealed in 1917 as the result of a special message to the legislature from Gov. Whitman. It closely resembles the present laws in the state of New Jersey and is a world's championship fight is soon to be pulled off between Dempsey and Carpenter."

The proposed racing commission act, the resolution says, is a race track gambling pure and simple.

Stolen Copies of Big Pictures.

Last October the Fox Film corporation reported to the detective agency that a copy of "The Sky Man," a feature production, had been stolen, apparently from a wagon at Wabash avenue and Adams street. Operatives were assigned to the case.

Since that time periodic complaints have been received by the agency from numerous film agencies. In each case it was a copy of a noted production.

Thursday afternoon, through a "tip" from a film-buying agency, the private detectives journeyed to St. Anne. There they found a man giving the name of John Ferns. In his possession were ninety reels of stolen films.

Both Make Confessions.

Ferns admitted he had purchased the films from Mikolins for the purpose of opening an exchange. Yesterday Mikolins was arrested.

Last night he confessed that he had stolen the films from the agency from wagons at State and Quincy streets and Wabash avenue and Adams street.

At Mikolins' home the detectives found more of the stolen films. In Mikolins' basement was a motion picture machine used to inspect each stolen reel.

At the film exchange last night it was said the earning power of the films had been virtually destroyed, inasmuch as the age of a film has much to do with the size of the rent to the exhibitors.

J. J. Merensky Appointed Assistant U. S. Attorney

Joseph J. Merensky, 3605 West Roosevelt road, yesterday was notified he had been appointed assistant United States district attorney. The appointment was recommended by Representative Sol Roderick and obtained through United States Senator McGill McCormick. Mr. Merensky, who is 36 years old, has been a practicing attorney in Chicago since 1912.

100 Reels Recovered; Seek Another 100.

A series of thefts of motion picture films, whose loot in Chicago alone is said to have totaled $100,000 in the last six months, was bared last night by operatives of the Mooney-Boland-Sutherland corporation in the arrests of John Mikolins, 2825 Elston avenue, and John Ferns, St. Anne, Ill.

The companies involved in the loot include the Fox Film corporation, the Famous Players-Lasky corporation, the Universal Film exchange, and the Pathe exchange.

More than 100 reels of film, all of them high grade "feature" productions, were recovered by the detectives. Another 100 reels are still missing.

WITNESSES IDENTIFY ANGELO GENNO AS LABRIOLA SLAYER

Angelo Genno of 917 Miller street will be booked this morning on a charge of murdering Paul Labriola, the Municipal court bailiff who was killed several weeks ago in one of the Nineteenth ward shootings.

Last night in the office of State Attorney Crowe he was confronted successfully by three persons who were standing at Halsted and Congress streets when the murder occurred. Each of the three positively identified the Italian as one of four men who took part in the killing.

"You're the guy. You killed him," said one. "I saw you walk up and shoot three times while Labriola was lying on the ground. Then you ran up an alley."

One of the witnesses was Morris Green, who identified Sam Amato and Frank Gambino several weeks ago as two of Labriola's assailants. The names of the other witnesses are being withheld by Assistant State Attorney Lloyd Rath for fear that friends of Genno may do them harm. The latter was arrested yesterday by Detective Sergeants Paldina and Gasparik.

Plan Reinberg Memorial in the Forest Preserve

As a memorial to the late Peter Reinberg, president of the county board, the Deer Grove tract of the forest preserve is to be named after him and a bronze tablet bearing his name erected there. The plan was announced yesterday by forest preserve commissioners. The Deer Grove park is near Palatine, Ill., about twenty-five miles from the loop.

Frank Cesary of 2737 West 16th street, going forth to purchase some oranges, left $1,950 with his two companions as a guarantee that he would return. He has the fruit. It cost him exactly $1,950 plus the market price for six oranges. Selah.

Court Frees D'Andrea, Accused of Gun Toting

Anthony D'Andrea, recent candidate for alderman in the Nineteenth ward, was discharged when he appeared yesterday before Judge William Peltzer in the jury court on charges of carrying concealed weapons and gambling.

FORT SHERIDAN SOLDIERS WILL GUARD MAIL HERE

United States troopers—regulars from Fort Sheridan—are to be stationed in the postoffice, its forty-one substations, and all of the city railway terminals to guard the mail from robbers.

This challenge Postmaster William B. Carlie flung yesterday at highway men who in the last year have rifled the mail with seeming impunity, obtaining, it is estimated, almost $100,000.

Hays Wants Action at Once.

It was based upon flow flashed to Chicago by Postmaster General Will Hays, advising that plans he perfected immediately for the installation of the soldier guard.

"I am particularly interested," Mr. Hays wired, "in having federal troops patrol all the stations in the larger cities where valuable mail is being handled. I wish you would work out a plan for Chicago."

It is expected between 100 and 150 soldiers will be required for the work. They will augment the regular postal guards recently stationed at strategic points.

Warrant for Mike Carozza.

A federal warrant charging Mike Carozza, head of the Chicago Street Sweepers' union, with stealing from the mails was sworn out yesterday. He is wanted, it is said, federal troops with the $300,000 holdup recently at the Dearborn street loading platform. With Carozza's arrest may come the linking up of the Pullman and Dearborn robberies, postal inspectors say.

Specifically, they charge Carozza gave part of the loot to Attorney Louis Grunwald and Engval Stevenson, both of whom were arrested several weeks ago for attempting to dispose of the booty.

Carozza's attorney, Benjamin Epstein, has promised his client will surrender as soon as bond can be arranged.

YEARS' LOOT $6,000,000.

Washington, D. C., April 25.—Mail robbers got approximately $6,000,000 last year, of which $3,000,000 has been recovered, Postmaster General Hays said today in discussing steps taken to remedy this "absolutely intolerable" condition.

"It must be stopped and it will be stopped," he said, adding that in addition to the distribution of arms to postal employees, the standing reward of $5,000 to any employee of the department who brought in a mail robber had been widened to include the general public.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

Have you noticed any real reduction in food prices in restaurants?

Where Asked.

At La Salle and Washington streets.

The Answer.

Miss Helen Myer, 5233 Calumet avenue, waitress—There has been a small reduction on some things, but not much. The restaurants are still paying large prices for food and are paying high rents. If the rents would come down I think the restaurants should cut their prices.

George Kerwin, 1618 South Karlov avenue, clerk—I have found out of work. I have found it a mighty hard proposition to pay the prices most of the "eat shops" are asking, and they give one a small amount of food. I have found no reduction.

Guy Maddern, city hall, alderman—In the cheap restaurants one might find a reduction in prices, but I am still paying from $1.25 to $1.50 for a good meal in high class restaurants. For instance, one can get a good cup of coffee, but it will cost a quarter.

Agnes Hansen, 1550 North Kedzie street, housewife—I have been eating in hotel lunchrooms for a number of years, and meals I formerly paid 25 cents for now cost me 60 cents. I appreciate what Mr. Poole, our city food administrator, is doing, but there are still many places to be visited by him which are charging outrageous prices.

Arthur Lindblad, 1900 North Keeler avenue, pension clerk—I have noticed the fall in prices at most restaurants, especially in the loop. I find the restaurants that are conducted under the "serve yourself" plan the cheaper. Their prices have been on the decline for weeks.

BYSTANDER SHOT DURING QUARREL.

Edward Hennigan, 7115 South Michigan avenue, was the innocent victim of a supposed quarrel between William Marano, 1523 Polk street, and Walter Bollinger, 550 Madison street, brothers-in-law. Bollinger is alleged to have fired a shot that hit Hennigan in the right wrist.

20 REPORT AT PRISON.

Leavenworth, Kas., April 25.—Twenty of forty-six members of the I. W. W. convicted of violating the draft act, as a result of the United States Supreme court's refusal to review their cases, had reported at the penitentiary tonight.

Two Bodies Taken from Lake; Boy Drowns in River

The bodies of a man and a woman were taken from the lake yesterday by the police and a boy of 7 was drowned in the river. The woman was Mrs. Theresa Toner, 4127 Grand boulevard. She was found at the foot of Thirty-fifth street. Her husband said she had been despondent. From papers found in the clothing of the man he is believed to be C. W. Earley, a salesman from Detroit, who has been missing thirty days. The body was found at Van Buren street. The boy was Alex Simon, 2029 Holly avenue. He fell into the water when fishing with his brother, Nicholas, 5 years old.

Woman Is Trapped in Wreckage of Three Autos

Suffering from cuts and bruises about the face and shoulders, Frances B. Edwards, 24 years old, 1534 Sheridan road, was carried from the wreckage of three automobiles yesterday when they collided on the new Michigan avenue bridge.

'SOFT SERVICE' ACCOUNTS EASE WAY FOR EXPERTS

None in City Hall Explains Authority for Use.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

No city official has even attempted to explain on what authority $2,429,575 was paid the five experts on six street improvements from the "soft service" appropriations.

The council finance committee has attempted to find out, but in vain, to date. However, a new committee goes on the job this morning, with the organization of the city council last night, and perhaps it will have better luck.

These appropriations are technically known as "S" accounts. After appropriating for building and other experts the council made several blanket appropriations. For such other expenditures in connection with this improvement as may be ordered by the city council. These are the "S" or "soft service" appropriations.

Of the $2,429,575 paid the quintet of experts, $2,429,575 came out of the "soft service" accounts.

Harding Falls to Shed Light.

City Controller Harding has been asked why he permitted money to be paid from these appropriations, but he has failed to reply. No record can be found in the council proceedings where it authorized the payments from any of the "soft service" accounts.

But somebody approved of the payments from these funds. The ordinary clerks in the controller's office surely would not assume the responsibility for auditing and approving of vouchers on these accounts unless told directly or indirectly to do so. Why city officials should hesitate to explain on what authority the "soft service" accounts were used to pay the experts is one of the mysteries of the city hall.

The two building experts, Frank H. Meese and Austin J. Lynch, who have collected more than $1,000,000 for their services last year, could not have gotten their money from the appropriations "for the services of building experts," because all but $225,000 of the only $225,000 on the street improvements.

$856,167 "Soft Service" Money.

The controller's record shows that they collected $856,167 from the "soft service" appropriations. Of this total $385,376 went to Meese and $468,791 to Lynch.

The trio of real estate specialists also garnered a $21,400 from the "soft service" appropriations. That was divided equally between Ernest H. Lyons, Arthur S. Merigold, and Edward C. Walker, Jr.

A member of the council finance committee said yesterday that Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, had suggested to the committee that the money be switched part of the bond issue to Robey street to other street improvements, where he estimates there will be enough to complete the construction.

Plan Will Delay Robey.

If that idea is carried out, the work on Robey street will be delayed for another bond issue. On this street the three real estate experts, Walker, Lyons, and Merigold, have already collected $320,873 for work done. This is 91 per cent of the total estimated fees they will receive on that thoroughfare.

Just what the two building experts have done on that street has not become public, but the controller's records show that they have not been paid on that improvement. Their fees on that street, as estimated by Faherty, will be $382,765.64.

Faherty has not explained how he can transfer bond money voted by the people for one street to another street. Perhaps the new finance committee will ask Corporation Counsel Etteson how it can be done.

Eleven I. W. W.'s Give Up; Start to Leavenworth

Eleven of the forty-six members of the I. W. W. sentenced to Leavenworth for obstruction of the draft act left last night for the penitentiary in a special car accompanied by four deputy United States marshals. They were surrendered by Otto Christensen, their attorney. The others under sentence, with the exception of William D. (Big Bill) Haywood, are expected to report at the penitentiary within the next five days. All were out under bond pending the United States Supreme court decision, which was adverse to them.

20 REPORT AT PRISON.

Leavenworth, Kas., April 25.—Twenty of forty-six members of the I. W. W. convicted of violating the draft act, as a result of the United States Supreme court's refusal to review their cases, had reported at the penitentiary tonight.

Two Bodies Taken from Lake; Boy Drowns in River

The bodies of a man and a woman were taken from the lake yesterday by the police and a boy of 7 was drowned in the river. The woman was Mrs. Theresa Toner, 4127 Grand boulevard. She was found at the foot of Thirty-fifth street. Her husband said she had been despondent. From papers found in the clothing of the man he is believed to be C. W. Earley, a salesman from Detroit, who has been missing thirty days. The body was found at Van Buren street. The boy was Alex Simon, 2029 Holly avenue. He fell into the water when fishing with his brother, Nicholas, 5 years old.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address: Embarrassing Moments, The Tribune, Chicago. Please write on one side of the paper. No manuscripts returned.

Thrifty.
I had just finished sorting the morning mail for the doctor, and my eye caught sight of an unopened stamp on the top letter. Wishing to do my bit in cutting down the high cost of living, I proceeded to remove it. A few moments later I looked up to behold a good looking young man standing at the desk.

In reply to his request for the doctor, I informed him that he would be in before afternoon, whereupon he remarked, "I just left a letter on his desk, and I wondered if he would notice the stamp was not canceled, as I left it here as I came in to the dentist across the hall."

Our eyes naturally sought for the pile of letters upon which lay his envelope, showing the torn corner where the stamp had been removed. It surely was an embarrassing moment, for I felt that I should apologize, which I did by informing him that I was making a collection of unused postage stamps!

Best Bran Biscuits.
I am a newcomer in the country, and several of my city friends came to spend the week-end. I made bran muffins one morning for breakfast, which they thought good. One asked for the recipe, and I told her there might be one in the sack even better than mine, but in my hurry I had not looked. I went to the kitchen and brought in the sack, and you can imagine my feelings when all saw at a glance my fine muffins were made out of chick feed.

Helen C. Gunsaulus Gives Jap Prints in Memory of Father

IN memory of Dr. Frank Waksley Gunsaulus, a collection of Japanese prints has been presented to the Field Museum of Natural History, of which he was a trustee, by his daughter, Helen C. Gunsaulus. It was announced yesterday. Miss Gunsaulus is on the museum's staff as assistant curator of Japanese ethnology. The collection comprises 350 Surimono selected by Miss Gunsaulus with the help of her father. It is one of the few private collections of Japanese Surimono in America. The Fine Arts museum of Boston has a room of these charming prints and there are one or two collections devoted to this field alone, but none is of the quality and extent of the one just presented to Chicago, in the judgment of the museum authorities.

The exhibit will be installed in a hall bearing the name of Frank W. Gunsaulus, and eighty-five of the prints will be shown on the day of the opening of the museum. Surimono are cards of greeting made for special occasions, such as New Year's and birthdays. They were rarely made for sale but generally for private distribution.

Give Reception for Canon H. R. Talbot

Evanston Country Club Will Have 'University Night'

IT will be hands across the campus Friday evening when the Evanston Country club puts on "Northwestern University Night" and the town and gown indulge in a hearty "shake" over old times and new. "President" Frederick Earle French and the entertainment committee of the country club invited President Walter Dill Scott, Business Manager William A. Dyche and various members of the faculty to make brief addresses and in turn the university authorities offered a thousand foot reel of motion pictures and the suggestion of a thriller in actual wrestling and boxing bouts by student experts. It will be guests' night at the club.

SEAMEN'S STRIKE MAY 1 MAY HIT SHIPPING BOARD

Walkout Ordered; Benson
Calls Conference.

New York, April 25.—Lines tending toward a strike on May 1 of more than 175,000 marine engineers, firemen, and seamen were closely drawn here today when the unions proposed to consider a new contract proposed by the owners carrying wage cuts averaging 25 to 35 per cent.

The engineers, through their national president, William R. Brown, issued a strike order effective that date if the cut is put into effect. The firemen and seamen, through Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union, said they, too, would quit work. Overseas and coastwise American flag ships on the Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico, and the Pacific will be involved.

Ships on the great lakes and tug, barges, and other craft employed in harbor transportation would not be affected by the strike, union leaders said, as they are under separate contracts. A tieup of deep sea and coastwise ships would be felt by several hundred thousand men.

Recent reports of American shipping show that the United States shipping board owns 1,773 ocean-going ships. In addition there are 1,917 ships owned by private companies.

Benson Calls Conference.
Washington, D. C., April 25.—A conference between all parties interested in the adoption of a new working agreement between marine unions and steamship interests to supplant the one expiring May 1 has been called here for Wednesday. Chairman Benson of the shipping board announced tonight, "because negotiations at New York have failed."

"I trust," the chairman said, "that the spirit of this conference will be one of fairness and mutual regard, and that an earnest effort will be made to reach an agreement on a reasonable basis."

He reiterated, however, that there must be a readjustment in wages, in

BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunate.

BY REV. G. A. MACWHORTER.

An entertainment in celebration of the Polish national holiday will be held next Tuesday night in Orchestra hall, and it is hoped that several thousand dollars will be raised for the starving children of Poland.

All the Polish societies in Chicago have joined with the Polish national committee, of which John F. Smulski is chairman, to make the benefit a success.

"A Romance of Two Worlds" will be shown in films.

Polish music and dances will be featured, and a buffet supper will be served by girls in Polish native costumes.

Mrs. Claude C. Hopkins is one of the patronesses of the benefit. Mrs. Frank M. Stresenreuter is ticket chairman, and Mrs. Charles E. Frankenthal is finance chairman. H. H. Herrick is treasurer of the Polish children's relief fund. Other members of the committee in charge are N. L. Piotrowski, Dr. A. Swajkarski, K. Zychlinski, and Mme. de Karasz-Siedlowska, a refugee from Warsaw.

accordance with the reduction in the cost of living.

May Strike on Pacific Coast.
San Francisco, Cal., April 25.—The threatened seamen's strike in New York may tie up Pacific coast shipping, which will involve between 25,000 and 30,000 workers, it was said today by the Engineers' association.

Organized Labor Bank
Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—The American Federation of Labor denied today that it was promoting or that it had indorsed in any way the project to launch an organized labor banking institution. It was stated that such a project was being promoted by certain parties in Philadelphia, but that it was disapproved by the federation, with whose principles it was in direct conflict.

CITY'S BUSINESS CHIEFS URGED TO FIGHT TAX BILL

The fight against high taxes gained new impetus yesterday when the 700 members of the Chicago Association of Commerce received letters urging them to take an active part in the campaign.

"Will you write your representative in the general assembly that you are opposed to all tax increases where compelling necessity is not shown?" the letters ask. They were signed by Joseph R. Noel, president of the association.

"Will you, if occasion arises, go to Springfield personally with others of the association to make an appearance on this subject?"

"Tax payers of Chicago face a serious crisis. More than eighty bills at Springfield propose increases or change in our tax laws. They call for an aggregate increase in our 1922 tax bills of approximately 80 per cent."

Certain readjustments in tax rates may be necessary, but the burden of proof is on those who ask increases."

Col. James R. Moss, secretary of the Society of United States Army Quartermasters and author of the "America in Battle," arrived at the Hotel La Salle last night, coming from Washington to address the Illinois chapter of the Society of Quartermasters Officers tonight. The meeting will be held at the Army and Navy club quarters, 139 North Clark street. Col. Moss is assistant to the quartermaster general.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

The executive board of the 501st Mar post will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the Iroquois clubrooms, 28 North Dearborn street.

Naval post will hold its final boxing bout of the season on board the U. S. S. Commodore Friday, the 29th, at 8:30 p. m. Twenty-eight rounds of good, fast boxing insure the watchers a good time, while a crowd of 1,500 means that Naval post can go ahead and order the necessary fittings for its new clubhouse on the lake front.

Near Saratoga, a headstone in the cemetery thus epitomizes a life's effort.

In the files of our wartime periodicals, some advertisements now stand as mute evidence of similar weak "try-outs of advertising" by well-meaning but short-winded corporations.

National advertising need not be experimented with,—it works.

Either advertise or don't advertise, but save yourself the cost of "trying out" advertising and don't start for a run of less than five years.

COUPLED with the ingenuity expressed in the electrically operated machines doing office work is the never-failing reliability of the small electric motors serving them.

Only because of reliability of power have the manufacturers of such office devices been able to achieve the success which has been theirs.

Leading manufacturers of office machines long since standardized on Robbins & Myers Motors, which they use as integral parts of their appliances. Steadily serving year after year, these small motors are meeting the demands of business—saving time and labor, doing countless tasks formerly required of hands and brains.

Look for the R&M name plate on the motor of any electrical appliance you buy. It denotes the skill developed during twenty-four years' experience in making quality motors.

The second largest hog receipts since February, at 50,000, forced a 25¢ advance in values, the general average dropping below the $8 mark to $7.95, the lowest since early in 1916. Cattle receipts at 25,000 were the largest in more than three months, which caused a reaction of 15¢ to 20¢, with the better grades of beef steers the lowest in more than five years. Top hogs sold at $8.25 and few cattle went above $8.50, with a few fancy yearlings as high as $9.25 and no heavy calves above $8.50. Poorer to best cattle and hogs sold at the narrow range of the year. Packers were free buyers of both cattle and hogs and while a good many medium cattle remained unsold only 1,000 hogs were carried over. The quality of hogs improved, while cattle were only fairly good. Exporters purchased cattle largely at $7.75@8.00. Lambs met with a good call, selling largely at 25¢ advance, with the best Colorado at $11.10, last week's top show lambs sold as high as $10.35, equaling last week's high point on this class. Hardly enough aged sheep arrived to establish quotations. A few wethers sold at $7.00, with ewes up to $8.00. Hog purchases yesterday by Chicago packers and others follow:

PRODUCE MARKETS

Potato prices declined 5¢ per 100 lbs, with trade lighter and arrivals 60 cars, with 132 cars on team tracks. Fresh egg prices advanced 4¢, with a better call and a good supply, arrivals before 33,613 cases, against 50,709 cases last year. Arrivals of 45 cars of strawberries were in good condition and sold readily at recent prices. Increased offerings of fresh vegetables from the south were lively.

Increased pressure to sell butter made a weaker market and made buyers more cautious. WHOLESALE CREAMERY BUTTER PRICES. Chicago. New York. Philadelphia. Boston. St. Louis. St. Paul. Minneapolis. Duluth. Chicago. New York. Philadelphia. Boston. St. Louis. St. Paul. Minneapolis. Duluth.

ATCHISON AND WABASH PROFITS BOTH TAKE DROP

BY O. A. MATHER.

The disappointing results of railroad operations last year are further reflected in annual statements made public yesterday by two more roads, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe and the Washburn. For the year ended Dec. 31, 1920, the Atchison reported a net profit after taxes and charges of $38,839,991, equivalent after preferred dividends to 14.56 per cent on the $274,715,500 common stock outstanding, compared with net profits of $42,125,454, or 15.56 per cent, on $272,000,000 common stock in 1919.

The Washburn report shows net profits after taxes and charges of $1,933,942, equal to 12.98 per cent on the $14,900,000 preferred "A" stock, compared with $1,710,669, or 13.1 per cent, on the $12,700,000 preferred "A" in 1919. Except for $3,043,939 received from the government under the compensation and guaranty provisions, there would have been a deficit of $7,060,967, with government accruals $1,933,942 was added to surplus.

Atchison's Income Account, with comparisons, follows:

	1920.	1919.

The Kansas City Terminal railway company has sold, subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, an issue of $2,000,000 ten year 6 per cent bond secured notes to a syndicate composed of the Continental National Bank and Trust, Commercial Bank and E. H. Hollins & Sons. It is planned to offer the notes public in the near future at a price to yield approximately 7 per cent.

Which do you prefer, snapping black eyes or dreamy gray ones? Long raven tresses or short golden curls? Chins that are round and dimpled, or those that are delicately pointed? These are only a few of the questions which the beauty contest judges have had to consider in selecting the prize winning beauties of the central western states. For the six territorial divisions, Chicago, Illinois outside of the city of Chicago, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Indiana, have all contributed hundreds of each and every type of feminine loveliness. Michigan's ten prettiest girls have already carried off their share of the honors. This week Indiana is in the limelight. On Sunday, May 1, ten prizes will go to the ten fairest girls that the Hoosier state boasts. A first prize of $1,000 will be given to the judges' first choice, $250 to the second, $100 to their third, and $50 to each of the remaining seven. And then there will be the problem as to which state will carry off the ten thousand dollars. Hoosier favorite? Well, whose yours?

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co

For Wear at School These Spring Days
"Regulation" Frocks for Girls
Very Specially Priced, $5
(In All Sizes, from 6 to 16 Years)

This is a selling exceedingly well-timed. And the values it brings are most unusual.

These "Regulation" frocks are in exactly the styles girls prefer. They are of excellent materials, and extremely well-made. They have the desired equipment of pockets, buttons and belts. Indeed, it is most advantageous to find such frocks so specially priced.

The frocks are of navy blue in one-piece, middie or Norfolk style. The two-piece frock at the center may be had in sizes 10 to 16 years. The pleated frock at the left and the frock at the right, in sizes 6 to 16 years.

In navy blue and khaki color. The insignia of the "Regulation" Frocks is done in silks and they have smart-looking silk ties. In every way they are decidedly exceptional values at $5.

Middie Blouses Priced
at $2 and $3.75

Separate blouses may be chosen in middie or Norfolk styles in navy blue and khaki shade, sizes 6 to 16 years.

Smart Separate Skirts
Priced $1.50 and $3.25

Skirt, box-pleated, of the colors to match the blouses. Some are on an underwaist, a practical feature.

Three-Piece Uniforms, in Khaki Shades, $10.
Two-Piece Bloomer Suits Are Priced $6.50.

Fourth Floor, East.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co

In a Special Sale Are 100
Mirrors Reduced
$19.50 Each

These are unusual values. For in this sale are mirrors formerly much higher in price. Worth-while savings are certain to be made by those who choose mirrors at this sale.

Mirrors of many shapes and sizes in varied finishes that may be chosen to harmonize with different plans of interior decoration are in this sale. Many full-sized mirrors in polychrome finish, for use over mantels, are included in the assortment. Early choice is advised, for the quantity is limited.

Fifth Floor, North.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co

Featured in This Sale of Household Linens
Damask Table Cloths, $7.50

This sale is certain to meet with immediate response, for the values are notable. Here is excellent opportunity for economy in choosing the household linens always needed.

These all-linen satin damask table cloths in size 2 x 2 yards are $7.50 each; size 2 x 2½ yards, $9 each; size 2 x 3 yards, $10.50 each. Napkins to match, size 22 x 22 inches, $9 dozen.

Turkish Towels, 40c Each

Hemmed and bleached, of extra heavy weight and excellent absorbent qualities. Size 22 x 44 inches. Very specially priced for this selling, 40c each.

All-Linen Huck Towels, 50c

All are hemstitched. An exceptional value at this special price. Many hundred just received make this an unusual selling. Size 18 x 34 inches. Priced 50c.

Other Values Equally Worthwhile Will Be Found Here.

Second Floor, North.

The Dread Pyorrhea Begins
With Bleeding Gums

Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this.

Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection.

Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection.

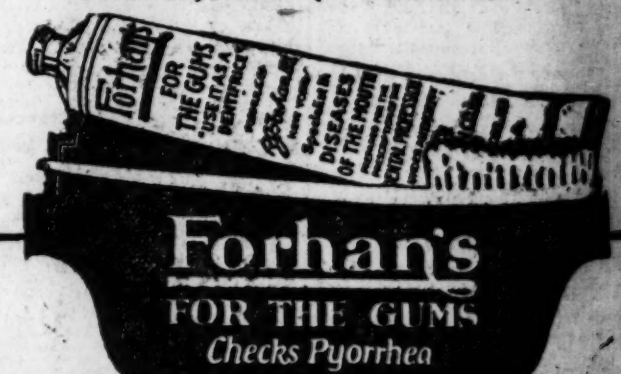

And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums; then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes. All druggists.
